

Happy New Year Everyone!

A Hard Day's Night

THE FIRST thing Santa Claus wanted to do after making his rounds in the North County last week was to soak his tired bunions and catch his breath. Although he had been warned by his elves that the North County had grown considerably since his last visit, he didn't think it had grown THAT big. Nonetheless, the bearded gent kept his good humor and covered all his stops and as a result, North County folk — old and young alike — enjoyed what all agreed was a truly merry Christmas. Yule Gift 'Saves' Life Of Hunter

A young duck hunter was plucked from the Bay's cold waters off South San Francisco Saturday, and his life saved as the result of a Christmas gift.

Stanley J. Johnson, 22, 669 Grand Avenue, was rushed to Kaiser Hospital for treatment of exposure after being rescued by a passenger helicopter when his boat sank.

LAGUNA MEETING

Policy on Yule Told to Clergy

Clergymen representing the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths met with officials of the Laguna Salada School District for more than an hour last Monday to hear an explanation of the district's policy in outlawing the singing of secular Christmas carols and the performance of Yuletide plays.

During the hour and a half long meeting, at which sack lunches were served to the 10 clergymen present, Supt. Fredrick E. Lucas, John Jacobs, principal of Vallemar School, and Kenneth Hill, district personnel officer, explained sections 8 of the state constitution and sections of the education code which prohibit the teaching of secular religions in public schools.

When asked by one clergyman, "Why does this always happen in Pacifica?" Lucas maintained because the district's "democratic approach to administration encourages all employees of the district to participate in decisions."

The controversy was touched off by a charge of Alfred Lynch, a fourth grade teacher at Vallemar School, that he has been prohibited from showing Christmas plays in his classroom.

Lucas denied that the coastal district is taking any more restrictive measures than other districts, and welcomed any citizen into classrooms to see Christmas displays.

The district was also a subject of controversy several years ago when it reportedly prohibited the singing of Christmas carols in classrooms.

"I feel if everyone has the correct information, everyone will understand what we are doing," Lucas said. "We are willing to throw our doors wide open and allow the people to see we have angels in all our schools."

MEETS SUPERVISOR CANDIDATES

Brown Delays Appointment

Governor Edmund Brown this week appeared to have other things on his mind besides the appointment of a supervisor to fill the board of supervisors' vacancy in San Mateo County, created by the death November 6 of former Daly City Mayor Joseph J. Verducci.

Yesterday, Brown was reported investigating food conditions in the north state area, caused by torrential rains this past week. His office indicated yesterday that no announcement on an appointment was planned yet.

The field of candidates was apparently narrowed to three persons Wednesday when Brown conferred with Daly City Vice Mayor Frank Pacelli, former Pacifica Councilwoman Jean Fassler and Jefferson Elementary School Board trustee Thomas Noonan.

Another person mentioned for the job, Peter Markovich, manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, was at his desk Wednesday and said he would not be going to Sacramento.

Markovich said, however, he still hoped that he had a chance, but that it looked doubtful at the time.

Pacelli and Noonan said the governor discussed problems facing the county, but gave no indication who he would appoint to the post.

The seat does not technically become vacant until Monday when Verducci was scheduled to have been sworn in as supervisor for the Fifth District, replacing incumbent Alvin Hatch, 89, who planned to retire.

It had been thought that Brown would announce an appointment earlier, however, in order that the appointee would have time to attend some board meetings and to confer with county department heads.

At a press conference in Sacramento last week, the governor indicated that San Francisco will be forced someday to expand beyond its borders "and must begin to think of metropolitan (Please See Page 2, Col. 5)

Eventful 1964 Nears End

Coast Road Paces Year In Pacifica

By MARILYN BRANNAN

The past year was a big one for Pacifica with special significance placed on the completion of the new Cabrillo Freeway.

Once the southern freeway in Daly City is completed, Pacificans will be able to drive uninterrupted to downtown San Francisco where an estimated 60 per cent of the residents earn their living.

In 1964, much needed help for Pacifica's eroding shoreline moved a step closer when the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers launched a three year, $54,000 survey of the beaches.

Citizens rallied behind the effort and formed a Shoreline Development Committee to explore every feasible way to begin where the engineers leave off and transform the Pacifica coast into a city-long esplanade of recreation facilities.

The city boasted more than 28,000 residents in 1964, a sizable increase over the 1963 figure of 25,000.

City fathers have become so concerned about the projected figures of 54,000 for 1969 and an ultimate total of 96,000, that they seriously are considering placing a population limit beyond which no additional persons would be allowed to move into the city.

This year's percentage of population increase over last year was 11 per cent, the highest recorded in the county.

A major development for Pacifica was the adoption by the city council of a five-year, $7-million capital improvement program.

Mayor Fred Ballew described the plan as a "projection to carry the city through the next half-decade."

It envisages improvements long sought in the city, including a community civic center, a new fire station, acquisition of beach lands for recreational purposes, and a solution to pressing sewage problems.

City employees were happy in (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

S.S.F. Father Fatally Hurt In Car Crash

A South San Francisco man was killed early Christmas Day when his auto struck a parked car in front of 70 South Linden Avenue, South San Francisco.

The victim was Jerry Lynn Trusty, 28, of 116 Arroyo Drive, South San Francisco, father of four children.

Police report Trusty was alone in his car when it struck the other vehicle. The accident occurred at 5:15 a.m. Several Christmas packages were in the auto, police said.

Trusty died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital.

D.C. FIRST OF YEAR

Pedestrian Is Fatally Injured

Daly City recorded its first traffic fatality of the year about 8:50 Monday night when a San Francisco pedestrian, bound for the Cow Palace, was hit by a small truck while crossing Geneva Avenue.

The fatality was one of at least 59 reported at press time in the state during the Christmas holiday weekend.

Two San Francisco police officers, Harold Winkler and Donald Sweeney, witnessed the accident. The victim was Leo Patillo, 56, a mechanic, of 1916A Golden Gate Avenue.

He was dead on arrival at Mission Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

The police officers, traveling east in their patrol car on Geneva, had stopped at the crosswalk in the fast lane of traffic to let Patillo cross.

But Durward Scott Turner of 548 Alvarado Street, Brisbane, thought the patrol car was making a left turn and began to pass the car on the right, investigators reported.

Turner said he saw Patillo too late because of the rain and fog, and could not stop his pickup truck in time.

He told police he was traveling. (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Tragedy and Death Mark D. C.'s 1964

By RON BATES

Death and tragedy took a major share of the headlines in Daly City during 1964.

Perhaps the most shocking to the North County and the county as a whole was the death of former Daly City mayor and Supervisor-elect Joseph J. Verducci.

Verducci, a councilman in Daly City for 12 years, died of an apparent heart attack, November 6 while playing handball at San Francisco State College where he was director of athletics.

He would have been sworn in Monday as supervisor of the fifth district, replacing incumbent Alvin Hatch, 89, of Half Moon Bay.

Verducci had emerged victorious in a hard-fought primary battle in June by garnering 55 per cent of the vote, thereby ruling out a November runoff against his strongest competitor for the seat—former Pacifica Councilwoman Jean Fassler.

Among the primary candidates to replace Verducci are Mrs. Fassler, Daly City Vice Mayor Frank Pacelli, school board trustee Thomas Noonan and Daly City Chamber of Commerce Manager Peter Markovich. The appointment is to be made by Gov. Edmund Brown.

A radio call for help was the last act of Broadmoor Patrolman Charles Manning on January 6 after he was shot five times in the back and once in the chest by Timothy Lee Silva of San Francisco.

Silva was caught stealing gas at the New Mission Heating and Plumbing Company when (Please See Page 2, Column 3) quarters Monday failed to show up, and only two San Francisco newspaper reporters and a television cameraman were present, Lucas reported.

"If they had shown up, we would have invited them in for coffee," the superintendent asserted. "This has been blown out of all proportion. The only fuss we have had are the few people who backed Mr. Lynch. We are not unreasonable, and we pride ourselves in the district on our democratic spirit. We invite more people to visit our classrooms and find the accurate information. If people were more informed they would understand our position."

Lucas said the clergymen present at yesterday's meeting expressed sympathy over the current discussions.

"They all understood," he added, asserting that the district's policy on Christmas practices comes from the county superintendent of school's office and was originally formulated by the Seventeenth District of the P.T.A., the A.A.U.W., the Federated Women's Clubs and other organizations.

D. C. Report Is Mailed

A four-page "City Report" was mailed to residents of Daly City last week by the City Council.

It describes the city's role in preparing a new zoning law, preparation of plans for the new civic center, its role in parks and recreation and opening of Mary's Help Hospital and operation of the library system.

ing 15 to 20 miles per hour. Investigators, however, estimated his speed at closer to 30 m.p.h. He was cited for traveling too fast for conditions at the time and making an illegal passing move.

Last year Daly City recorded three traffic fatalities.

Death, Tragedy Mar D.C.'s '64

Manning surprised him around midnight. Police from all North County jurisdictions responded to Manning's call and Silva was found hiding on the roof.

Two children in Daly City were the victims of tragedy during the past year.

Five-year-old Sharon Rasmussen of 51 Frankfort Street was burned to death in a play "theater" behind the Mission Drive-in Theater August 10 despite the heroic rescue efforts of a neighbor, James McGaughey, 14, to save her.

Eight-year-old Willie James Jackson of 632 St. Francis Boulevard drowned in a storm-drain basin in a gully behind the St. Francis Square Shopping Center December 19. The efforts of a playmate, Marc Schaller, 8, of 756 St. Francis Boulevard, to save him also failed.

On the brighter side, the police and fire departments stole part of the show when Daly City hosted the 1964 National Republican Convention, held in the Cow Palace.

While the Republicans, as expected, were nominating Barry Goldwater as the GOP standard bearer, Daly City Police were applying a strong and effective arm to civil rights demonstrators.

Their handling of the ensuing situations, without a single arrest, brought praise from the national radio and television networks, newspapers, convention officials and even the demonstrators themselves.

The fire department gave the city's name a boost when firemen quickly and efficiently snuffed out a small fire at the convention center.

The year 1964 also saw the start of several projects that may have their conclusions in years to come.

One of the most visible is the construction of interchanges along Junipero Serra Boulevard in preparation for the Junipero Serra freeway. Most awesome of these is represented now by a large gaping hole at the intersection of Knowles Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Impending construction of a freeway link between Junipero Serra and the Edgemoor Freeway on the coast caused a controversy among residents of St. Francis Boulevard who objected to an agreement between the city and the state to permit the hauling of dirt on St. Francis.

The controversy was still not resolved as the year drew to a close.

A massive grading operation of the Serramonte development occurred during the past year and construction of single family homes in the southern portion began.

On the development's drawing boards for the next few years are high-rise apartments and a 73-acre regional shopping center that will include an $8-million Macy's store.

Mary's Help Hospital also took concrete shape during the past year and the eight-story facility is expected to open before fall next year.

To be or not to be a single unified Jefferson High School District — that was a major question in 1964. And it was not answered despite a long series of meetings of the County Committee on School Reorganization.

The committee ultimately presented a plan to the state board of education that proposed two unified school districts in the North County.

One would be composed of the elementary districts of Bayshore, Brisbane and Jefferson and the two high schools in those districts and the other would be composed of Laguna Salada and the two high schools located in Pacifica.

The state board turned down the plan in November and the county committee is looking to the state legislature for help. At stake is about $300,000 in bonus funds.

Besides leading the fight against a split of their district, the Jefferson High School Board trustees had a number of other problems facing them.

Coaches in the district requested extra pay for extra areas in the San Mateo region."

He added that San Francisco must do something to "meet its pressing traffic problem." In San Francisco today, you can spend three-fourths of your life in an automobile, he said.

Brown's concern for traffic was one of the primary things reported to have been discussed Wednesday with Pacelli, Mrs. Fassler and Noonan.

The appointee to the post would undoubtedly play a big role in any "metropolitanization" of San Mateo County because the fifth district boundaries abut San Francisco and includes Pacifica and Half Moon Bay.

Meanwhile, asked about a report that Supervisor Edward R. McDonald, the only Democrat on the county board, had accompanied Pacelli to his meeting with the governor, Board Chairman James V. Fitzgerald said McDonald did not represent the board.

"If he is there (in Sacramento), he is on his own. The board has adopted a 'hands off' policy on this thing. We will work with whomever the governor appoints."

hours and, when turned down by the trustees, filed suit against them.

The district was plagued part of the year with a bad leak in the hot water system at Westmoor High School and currently is troubled with overcrowding in the school's cafeteria and other general purpose areas.

Two new faces appeared on the city council in 1964.

Albert Polonsky of 12 Fleetwood Drive was appointed to replace Verducci in January. He ran for re-election and edged out school board trustee Thomas Noonan by 47 votes.

Bernard Lyett, former president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, was named to replace Bob St. Clair who moved to Millbrae.

New Road Tops Pacifica's Year

1964 to receive a much hoped-for raise in salary. They received a 3 per cent across the board increase. Department and administrative heads gained a big 6 per cent raise.

As Pacifica moves ahead, the bill for it all has to be paid and as a result, 1964 marked the year when the municipal tax rate was increased 18 cents. This set a new rate of $2.10 per $100 of assessed valuation, compared to the 1963 rate of $1.92.

All wasn't rosy for the coastal city this past year. A million dollar sewage disposal system, accepted only a little over a year before, suffered a severe breakdown. Early in February, scuba divers discovered that a 600-foot steel section of the pipe had broken off and was lying three feet down in the ocean bottom.

Plans for repairing the fallen outfall are still on the drawing board, which means that 1964's failure will be left for 1965 to correct.

Tragedy was sorely felt by all Pacificans and other North County residents when ex-Mayor and Councilman Harold Feyge passed away in August. More than 500 persons from all walks of life attended "Mr. Pacifica's" funeral to pay final tribute.

Citizens are working hard to honor the councilman's memory with the proposed building of an emergency hospital facility in Pacifica. A committee was formed in 1964 and much public support has been given the proposal.

Pacificans also mourned the auto-accident death of Andres F. (Andy) Oddstad, a builder without whom Pacifica might not have become a community at all.

More than 2,000 Pacifica families live in Oddstad-built homes in Linda Mar. Many more have moved or will be moving into a new subdivision, Sun Valley.

A civic leader gave Oddstad a glowing tribute by stating: "There would be no Pacifica as we know it today without the fortitude and foresight of Andy Oddstad."

The situation in the Laguna

Salada School District wasn't too certain as 1964 drew to a close. Recall petitions presently are being circulated and 1965 will indicate whether district voters agree with the recall attempt.

Mayor Ballew says that 1964 is definitely a year to remember for Pacifica.

"The shoreline erosion study started by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, the southeast study for future development and the initial planning of a proposed capital improvement program have all been important events of the past year," Ballew states.

The mayor puts special emphasis upon the near-completion of the freeway part-way through his community.

"This achievement coupled with the widening to four lanes of the remaining part of the coast highway to our southern boundary is the most significant development of the past year," And he adds:

"The present highway work, combined with the future cross-county lateral, will be of immeasurable value in accelerating the development of badly needed commercial and commercial recreation enterprises in our city."

The rescues started at about 11 a.m. when an unidentified citizen stood on the bay shore, trying out a pair of Christmas binoculars.

Spotting what he thought was a man in the water, he notified a nearby private policeman, Robert F. Pugh, 95 Salada Avenue, Pacifica, a Pinkerton agent guarding the Fuller Paint factory on East Grand Avenue.

Pugh notified South San Francisco police dispatcher Gary Ekstrom, who sent Sgt. David Casey and Officer Jesse Wallen to the scene.

The officers confirmed that there was a man in the water, and Ekstrom contacted the nearby Coast Guard Search and Rescue headquarters for helicopter aid.

Doelger Company Outlines Plans

Plans for a long-rumored community of between 50,000 and 60,000 people on Henry Doelger-owned land stretching between Devil's Slide and El Granada on the Coastside were unveiled at a press conference in San Mateo last week.

According to officials of the Doelger Development Company, the 7,000-acre "city" will eventually represent a $500,000,000 investment, and will bring long-awaited natural gas service to the Half Moon Bay area. They said actual construction of the first unit of 200 acres will begin late next year and the first residents are expected to move into the tract in early 1964.

According to company officials, the new development will bring the Doelger interests down the Coastside from the Westlake area in Daly City and as the subdivision expands the company's headquarters will be moved to the new development.

Supervisors Make 1-Year Tax Official

County supervisors agreed last week to give official assurance that the special "in lieu" tax increase ordered for 1965 will be imposed for one year only.

As a result of the levy, which was imposed by the board to raise funds for operation of the next West Bay Rapid Transit District, license fees for all San Mateo County car owners will be increased 25 per cent in the coming year.

County Manager E. R. Stallings said the average additional cost per car will be about $12. The levy is expected to raise $1.2 million to finance transit studies and other operations of the new agency.

Questions about the levy were raised at the board meeting by Lester W. Kelting, a San Bruno insurance man.

Kelting, who was a leader of the anti-freeway forces in San Bruno and opposed the recent county highway bonds, told the board that he favors rapid transit but is against the levy against car owners.

Stallings said it is too late to rescind the tax and pointed out that when it was adopted it was with the understanding that it would be imposed only for one year. The board agreed to make it official with a formal resolution.

Two Shots Are Fired At Party

Pacific police last week were investigating a party that ended with a man firing a .25 automatic pistol early Christmas Day.

The disturbance occurred at the home of B. J. Anderson, 29, at 335 Milagra. Officers said Anderson phoned police at 1:35 a.m. to complain that a guest had discharged a pistol in the home.

Sergeant Otto Saltenberger and Officer Charles Roberts rushed to the house, where they found William Harmon, 48, of 64 Valdomo Avenue, Daly City, lying in his car with a minor laceration on his head.

Harmon was taken by ambulance to Peninsula Hospital, where he was treated and released.

The policemen went to the door. When Anderson answered, the officers reported, he was taking the pistol from his pants pocket. The officer disarmed Anderson and questioned him.

Anderson said Harmon and his family had come to the house for a Christmas party. He said Harmon had fired his weapon twice during the party. Harmon told police he had fired his gun after a man, whom he refused to identify, had jumped on him. Harmon said he was struck on the head after firing the gun.

No arrests were made, pending the investigation.

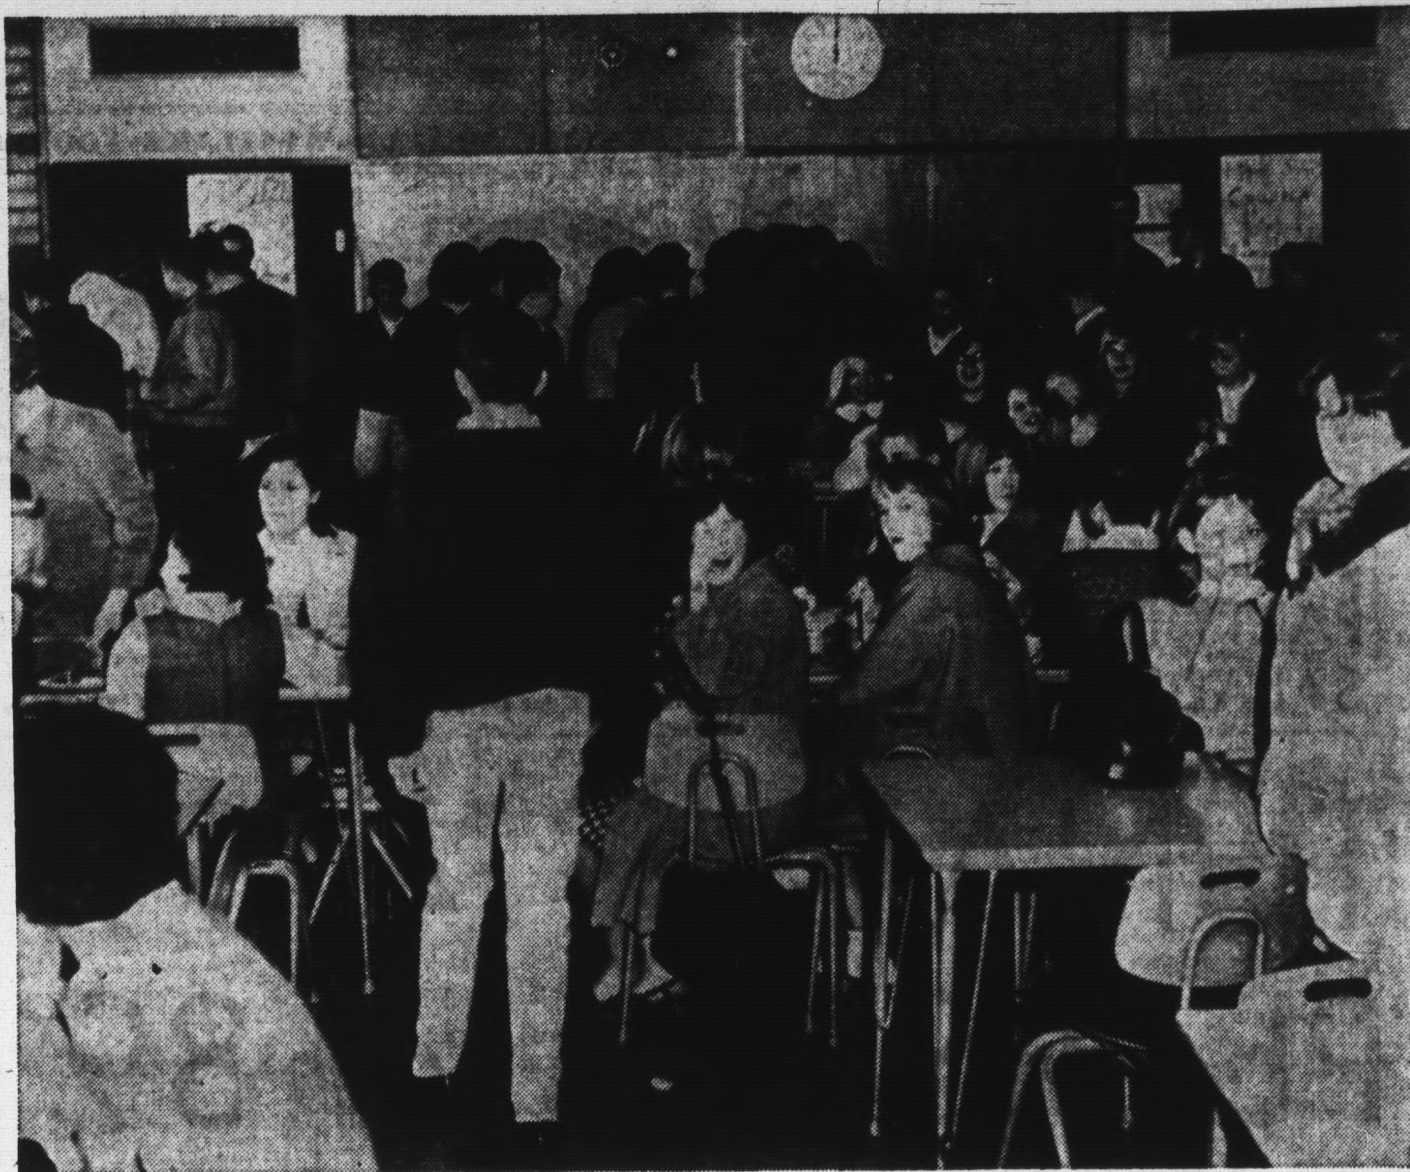

D.C. Youth Nominated

A Daly City youth is one of 10 boys nominated by Congressman J. Arthur Younger to take a final examination for appointment to the United States Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, N. Y.

They will compete along with others throughout the state for 25 California appointments to the academy.

The Daly City youth is William H. Waite of 847 Stoneford Drive.

Standing Room Only at Westmoor

STEADILY-MOUNTING enrollment at Westmoor High School in Daly City has created an overcrowding problem in the school's cafeteria (above), which seats only 400 students. About 400 students use the cafeteria each day during each of two lunch periods. Students often eat their lunches while seated on benches in corridors adjacent to the cafeteria (top photo) while others stand up. The Jefferson High School District has requested suggestions from its architects on how the school's general purpose areas—such as the cafeteria and library—might be expanded.

Deaths

HILDA FOSSUN

Hilda Fossun, 75, of 176 Avalon Street, Daly City, died Wednesday at home.

She was the wife of the late Albert Fossun. Survivors include two sons, Robert, of Daly City and Leo Asklund, of San Leandro; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Maison, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Glorine Sullivan, of San Rafael and Mrs. Rhoda Couch, of Chelan, Wash.; and four sisters, Mrs. Esther Gilcher, Mrs. Elle Crawford, and Mrs. Evelyn Hustad, all of North Dakota, and Margaret Littlefield, of San Pablo.

Services were held Saturday at Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea. Interment was in Olivet Memorial Park.

WILLARD W. FORGERON

Willard W. Forgeron, 69, of 321 Arroyo Drive, South San Francisco, died last Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. A native of Boston, he had lived in South San Francisco for six years. He was a member of Plumbers' Union Local 38.

Survivors include his widow, Agnes; two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Golub, of Virginia, and Mrs. Louise Drescher, Berkeley, and three brothers, Harold, of Santa Barbara, Hy, of Las Vegas and Clyde, of Bakersfield.

Funeral services were held at St. Veronica's Church. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

CAROLINA PEANNA

Mrs. Carolina Penna, 76, 813 Linden Avenue, South San Francisco, died Wednesday after a long illness. She had lived in South San Francisco for 51 years.

She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis; the Ladies' Sodality of All Souls' Church; the Italian Catholic Federation, Branch 7, and the Alessandro Volta Lodge 1956, Sons of Italy.

Survivors include four daughters, all of South San Francisco, Mrs. Clara Caron, Mrs. Cecilia Baldini, Mrs. Mary Galeotti and Miss Ida Penna; three sisters, Mrs. Julia Qualia and Mrs. Christina Moriconi, both of Sacramento, and Mrs. Josephine Ghisolfi, Italy, and nine grandchildren.

The Best Present of All

Twenty-seven county jail prisoners got the best possible Christmas present last week—their freedom.

Following tradition, the County Parole Board ordered the release of all inmates whose jail terms were due to end in the period between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Sheriff's Capt. Joseph Kimble said nine of those released were serving their terms in the county's two honor camps.

Kimble noted that some of those who got out early qualified for release because they had donated blood last week.

Prisoners who give blood are allowed five days off their sentences and, for some of them, it meant that their terms expired at the right time.

S.S.F. Neighbors Come to Aid of Triplets' Parents

Perhaps it's the spirit of the season, or perhaps it's just that there are a lot of nice South San Francisco neighbors.

Whichever it is Mr. and Mrs. Ted Van Leeuwen are grateful to neighbors of their area who have rallied to their side after the birth of their triplets.

The Van Leeuwen family grew to nine very quickly when three girls were born.

Women have volunteered to help with the house work and baby-sitting.

On a rotation basis, women have been cooking complete dinners and sending them to the Van Leeuwen home each evening.

Now a group of women have started a special bank account as the springboard to a fund campaign to get the Van Leeuwen's a gas dryer to handle all the diapers that the young tots can use in the days ahead.

Until the funds for the dryer are realized, or until perhaps a "generous merchant or businessman donates one," six women have volunteered the use of their dryers.

"We are hoping that a special bank account can be generated to help the couple," one spokeswoman stated. "I think it's wonderful how the neighbors have helped."

"Usually you think of things like this in a small town, but it can happen on the Peninsula. It's just wonderful."

NO, VIRGINIA, we're no Scrooge. Our editor only made us seem like one.

We were the only columnist in last week's Christmas edition, you may have noted, who had not even so much as say a "Merry Christmas," or something of that ilk.

But we did, we did. We wrote a beautiful, concluding paragraph that was so selfless in sentiment that we even suggested—as a special Yule bonus to our regular readers—that we stop writing the column. What better Christmas message could anyone have had! Why, we even threw in a couple of "Merry Christmases." But, alas, it was all bluepenciled.

For this week, our editor has told us to write a New Year's type column—something different. Writing a different type New Year's column is as easy as sun bathing on Skyline Boulevard.

Especially when two people call you and confess that their New Year's resolution is to stop reading your column. And the people are your mother and father.

But we'll give it a rambling, disorganized, off-the-headtop try.

OUR MOST satisfying column of the year was the one on Karate. It brought reader response in the form of letters and phone calls for something like eight weeks after it appeared. It made people think about what we wrote, and that was our intent, whether we were agreed with or not.

We usually dislike rekindling old coals. But just to start the New Year off right—with everybody mad at us again—we are reprinting two communiques that arrived much later than our first Karate column was printed but that we feel are too approp to our argument to dismiss.

The first is an actual press release, the second a column by Sydney J. Harris, reprinted with the permission of Mr. Harris and the Publishers Newspaper Syndicate. Here's the press release:

"There was much excitement and enthusiasm among Mrs. I. McKeown's fourth graders recently when they had the opportunity to see a Karate demonstration . . .

"The demonstrator was Mr. R. Lemon, father of one of the students in the class. Ramon. Mr. Lemon teaches Karate at Columbus Hall as a hobby and also instructs his own family. He and his son demonstrated some exercises and warm-ups and also showed various techniques of self-defense.

"This activity was a culmination of a Social Studies unit on Japan . . . Mr. Lemon's visit was certainly the highlight of their study of Japanese sports."

THE HARRIS column runs like this: "A nine-year-old boy . . . mentioned that several of his classmates were taking judo lessons. I asked him if he were interested in doing the same. When he shook his head, I said: 'Don't you want to learn to defend yourself better?'"

"No," he said. "I can take care of anyone my own size—and if one of the big boys comes after me, I'm better off practicing running than judo."

"But it would give you an advantage with boys your own size . . ."

"I don't want an advantage like that," he said. "It's too dangerous."

"Too dangerous? How?" I questioned.

"Well," he said, "suppose I'm playing with some of my friends, just horsing around, you know, sometimes what starts as a game gets serious—and, before you know it, you're really fighting. If I knew judo, I might start to use it when I got mad. And that's a good way to lose friends."

"Aren't there some bullies around where it might come in handy?"

"It's a funny thing about bullies," he said. "You don't have to be tougher or stronger than they are—you just have to be not afraid of them and let them know that you'll stand up to them. They don't bother me . . . they bother . . . the ones who are afraid of them."

"But wouldn't these kids who are afraid of them be helped if they learned judo?"

"I don't think so," he said. "They're frightened of being hurt—and learning to hurt someone else doesn't help you get over that fear. They don't know that bullies are . . . weak . . . when they know that, they don't need judo."

I said nothing more, because he was so absolutely right. And I thought how extraordinarily touching and sad it is that a nine-year-old boy could so grasp the differences between aggressiveness and courage, and so confidently walk along that narrow ridge between the two, when so many millions of presumed "men" have not yet learned that lesson.

The above needs no further comment.

FUNNIEST BASEBALL REMARKS (two of them, both by glib Dodger first baseman Ron Fairly): "After Frank Howard became the first hitter to clear the left-field pavilion at Dodger Stadium: 'I hit a ball that far once and still bogeyed the hole,' and when a reporter asked Fairly about his winter plans: 'I plan to cry a lot.'"

BASEBALL TRADE OF THE YEAR (that never came off): The one rumored with the Yankees, where the Giants would give up O'Dell, Peterson, and Shaw for Blanchard and Linz. We gained new respect for the Yankees when they scotched it. It would have been fantastic for the Giants, possibly embarrassing to the Yankees.

DILEMMA OF THE YEAR (for people who think catchers are stupid): The firing of Yogi Berra, a catcher (cheer, people who think catchers are stupid) by Ralph Houk, a catcher (now what are you gonna do, smarties).

YEAR'S GREATEST INANITY: Complaints from certain NBL club owners that pro basketball is too rough physically. So what else is new?

ATHLETE WE'RE PROUDEST OF THIS YEAR: Floyd Peters, defensive tackle of the Philadelphia Eagles. When Floyd was a Little All-American at S. F. State, we didn't see how he could miss as a pro. He knocked around with NFL clubs for five years before he found a home in Philly. This year he's made the Eastern Division All-Pro squad, the Pro Bowl game, and last week was voted the John Taxin sportsmanship award by teammates for outstanding leadership.

SADDEST STORY OF THE YEAR: The death of Joe Verducci.

11 PLAYERS 'EVEN-STEVEN'

Jeff Juggles Its Lineup

By RON BATES

BECAUSE THERE are no starting veterans returning to the Jefferson lineup, pre-season forecasts and fellow coaches haven't been taking the Indians' hopes for a basketball championship too seriously.

And Coach Mike Orlich, dean of the North Peninsula League basketball coaches, hopes they keep thinking that way.

In the meantime, he'll keep juggling his 11 players in an effort to find a winning combination — and if practice game results are any indication, he may already have done just that.

The 11 players on his roster, he claims, are "even steven" now on playing and scoring ability and any of them could break into the lineup at any time.

MOST OF HIS team is made up of players from Mic Kelly's undefeated B-team of last year. Included are All-Leaguers Oscar Redmond (6-1) and Tom Snodgrass (5-11) and honorable mentions George Egan (5-8) and Tom Pritchard, (6-0).

Orlich also has three improved players who saw only limited action on the varsity squad last year. They are Frank Cvetovac (6-2), Dan Cafferetta (5-11) and Stan Patterson (5-11).

Orlich has been giving all 11 players a chance to prove themselves on the court — even though doing so may have cost him a couple of practice game wins.

The Indians, for example, lost to a tough Mission team in double overtime by two points. That same Mission team also handed solid defeats to both teams favored to take the NPL crown — Westmoor and South San Francisco.

Even with the closeness of the game, Orlich substituted two balanced units every four minutes.

With the same system, Orlich's charges lost to Balboa by a last-second basket.

"THIS TEAM has one of the best attitudes of any team

I've coached in the past four years," Orlich said. "They have a desire to win and I think this is what we need to win."

Orlich said he would prefer to have this type of attitude on the part of team members rather than ability.

"You can lose if the attitude is wrong," he said, citing a number of professional and college teams who have had great stars but few wins.

The coach said that all of the players are still fighting for starting positions and that's what he likes.

AT THE CENTER SLOT, Cvetovac, a senior, is being pressed for the starting role by junior Claude Munday, one of only two players brought up from the C team. A third center is sophomore Marvin Rance (6-2).

The two forward roles will probably go to the only brother duo in the NPL — Oscar and Willie Redmond. Willie, a sophomore, is the other player up from the C team. Oscar is a senior.

The Redmond brothers have tough competition from Snodgrass and Pritchard, the leading contenders, and Patterson, Cafferetta and Charles Lockett, a 6-foot, 182-pound freshman.

At the guard slot, Mike Ciradella (5-10) is starting with Egan, Mike Winterhalter and Ray Suey fighting it out for the other slot.

Both Snodgrass and Pritchard may start at guard also, Orlich said.

THE INDIANS will use a free-lance style of play, the mentor said. "These kids have played with each other for years in summer leagues and on the playgrounds. They have come up to the varsity through Jefferson teams."

Orlich said his team will run, however, if it can get the rebounds. Looking at the rest of the league, he said that on paper the nod would have to go to South San Francisco because of Greg Jones. Westmoor will also have a couple of individual stars in Jim Mason and John Price, he noted. And he added:

"But I think it's going to be wide open, myself. Terra Nova has size and El Camino has some hot shooters up from the B team who could pull off some upsets." Orlich said his team should not be counted out of it—especially if the Indians can knock off the Warriors January 22.

Jeff Takes Seventh in Invitational

The Jefferson Indians trounced Gunn High School, 67-36, to nab seventh place in the annual Palo Alto Invitational Tournament last week.

The Indians suffered earlier defeats in the tourney at the hands of the eventual champion, Cubberley, 66-34, and Menlo, 53-52.

In the Gunn game, the Indians were never headed after the first quarter.

They jumped to an 11-point lead at halftime, 24-13, traded baskets in the third quarter and exploded for a 30-point final stanza.

Willie Redmond led the Jeff scoring with 13 points, followed by Dan Cafferetta and Mike Winterhalter with 10 each.

In the Menlo game, the Indians held a 18-8 lead at the end of the first period and it looked like Mike Orlich's crew had a slaughter going.

Menlo whittled down the score to 24-22 in the second stanza by holding Jeff to only six points.

A 19-point output in the final quarter gave Menlo the squeaker.

In the Cubberley game, it was a 19-point blitz in the second period that broke the Indian's spirit. Jefferson could only score three points during the period.

The Indians had held a 9-8 lead in the first quarter.

Since 1945, members of the Big Ten have won 328, lost 144 and tied 20 in non-conference football competition.

Hillbillies Nab Title in D. C. Colma Soccer Loop

The Hillbillies topped the Go-Getters, 3-1, to nab first place in the Colma Intermediate School-Daly City Recreation Department Soccer League playoffs.

Peter Nichon of the Dutchmen was named the league's most valuable player.

Ben Franklin Tops Engvall

Ben Franklin's eighth grade basketball team downed Engvall of San Bruno, 44-38, last week to move into the championship game bracket in the San Bruno Invitational for intermediate schools.

The Daly City team meets again at 8:30 tonight.

Mike Mason and Tom Orlich led the Ben Franklin team to the win over Engvall with 18 and 12 points apiece.

Ben Franklin notched earlier tournament wins over St. Catherine, 36-24, and Parkside, 35-31. Franklin's opponents tonight will have to post two wins in order to take the tourney title because of the Daly City's undefeated record in the tourney.

The official name of the Big Ten or Western Conference is "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives."

Dons Hand Warriors Third Loss

The Aragon Dons held the South San Francisco Warriors to one field goal in the second quarter last week and went on to hand the North Peninsula League School its third practice loss of the season, 61-51.

The Dons jumped to a 19-11 lead in the first quarter and added nine more points in the second stanza while stifling the Warriors' vaunted scoring attack.

With Ron Benetti and Greg Jones leading the way, the Warriors cut the Dons' lead with 19-point outbursts in the final two periods of play.

But the Dons held on to the lead to notch their sixth win against two losses.

Benetti wound up with 19 points and Jones, 16.

Dutchmen blanked the Disciples, Art Garcia booted in two goals and Jim heeler one.

Sea Bowlerettes SCR: Phyllis Crisp of Scotch Jeweler had high game of 226-546. Sam Rugg had high series of 206-560. Other nice games and series: Bette Baker of House of Beauty, 201-539, and Clara Meadows, 198-545.

Westlake Bowl

Dottie Hamilton not only rolled eight consecutive strikes, she shot a 268 game and 624 series to set new records in the 90's Mixed Fives League—which is not bad for a young lady with a 159 average.

The following night, Howie Sullivan toppled the pins with regularity as he started with a big 236 game followed by 230 and 207 for a tremendous 673 series.

Three ladies topped the 500 mark in the Tuesday morning All-Nursery League as Twyla Krohn rolled 185-513, Midge Burns 192-511, Doris Cunningham 185-503 and Betty Cooper 177-502. Split converters were Judy Thiemann, 5-6; Betty Cooper, 3-10; Bev O'Leary 4-10; Flo Dillon, 2-7, and Ethel Stetter, 2-7-10.

For the second consecutive week Rich Brewer led the 850 American Scratch League, this time with a 671 series on games of 225-231-215. Ed Hargrove took second honors with a 233 game and 637 series.

Both men and women bowlers of the lower average class are forming teams for the Northern California Men's and Women's Team Handicap Tournaments now in progress. Any five ABC or WIBC bowlers are eligible to compete in these annual tournaments set up primarily for lower average bowlers.

Bob Raeta's 214 game and 602 series were tops for the week in the 805 Scratch League. Another 602 series was posted in the Country Club Handicap when Bob Belluomini led the way with a 222 game.

LEADING the St. Emydius Belles for the week was Gertrude Clausen with a 180 game and 485 series. Split converters were Lorraine Youngman, 5-7; Dorothy Quistgaro, 5-10; Juanita Wylder, 4-10, and Mike Ellis, 3-7-10. Canco bowler of the week was Joe Peralta with a 571 series.

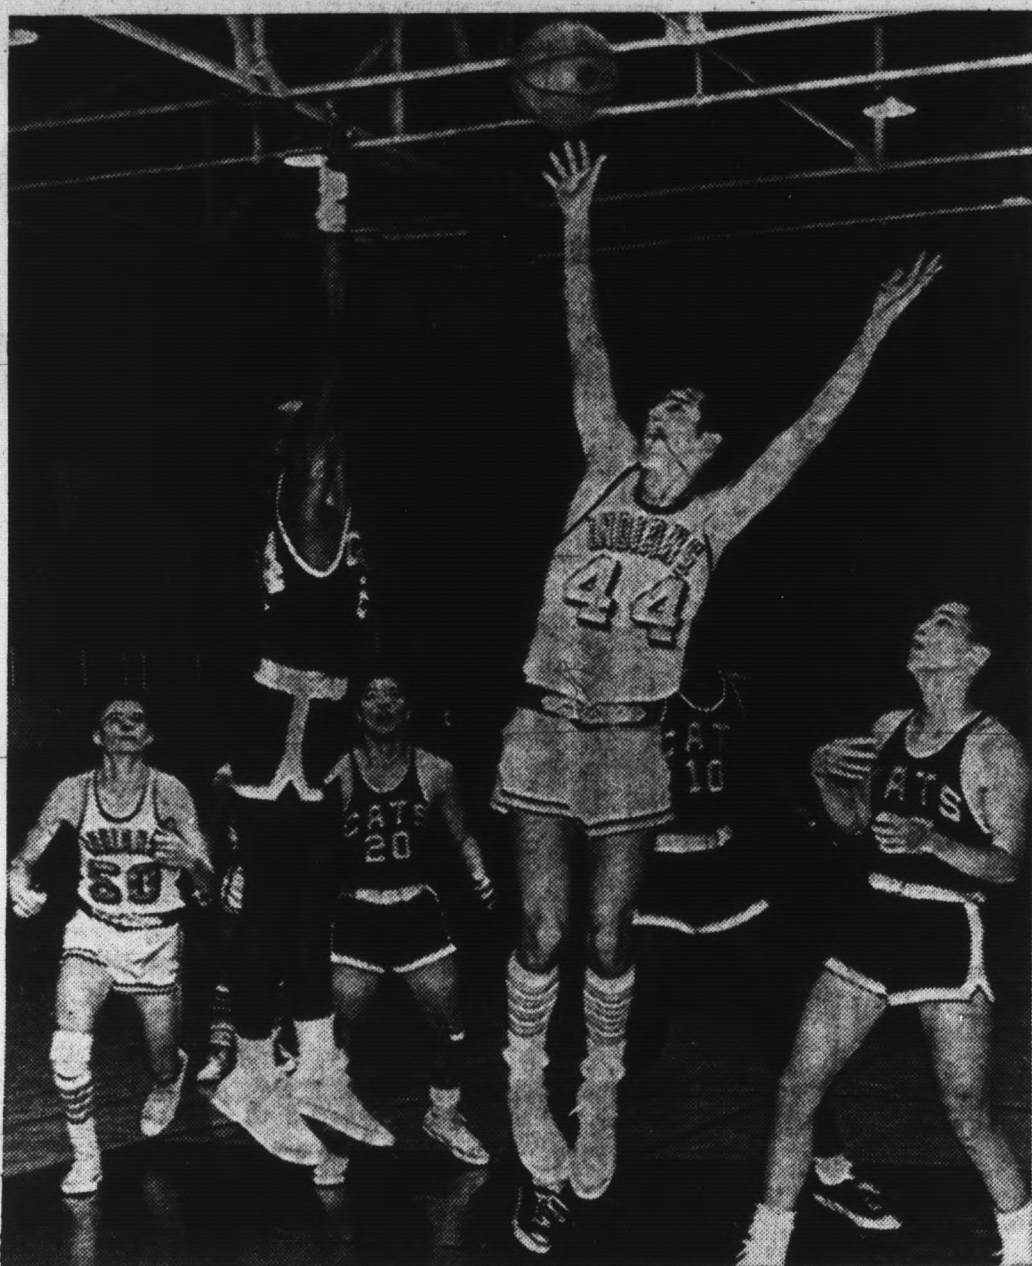

Rae Nielson led the ladies with 177-502 and Harry Mendelson topped the men with 199-504 in the Monday night Lakeside Mixed Fives.

Top honors were split in the Thursday morning Holy Rollers League—Elisa Mould, shooting high game of 181, and Alice Schneider, top series of 474. Split converters were Kay Casey and Alice Schneider, 5-7; E. Pontera, 2-10; Martha Shaughnessy, 3-10, and Ruth Dwyer, 4-5-7.

The usual leaders topped the Southgate Mixed Fives—Donna La Flamme with 196-532 and George Freyslaben with 238-575.

All is in readiness for Thursday night's first annual New Year's Eve Party at the Bowl. A few last minute reservations are available from Bowl employees.

Rebound Ramble

JEFFERSON'S Larry Monti (44) and San Mateo's Jim Pages (24) go up for a rebound in the Jefferson Lightweight Invitational championship game. San Mateo won 61-57.

Other players, left to right, are the Indians' John Kirby (50) and the Cats' Steve Hing (20), Jim Scott (10) and Frank Yam (17).

Yule Contest For Readers' Prizes Given

A San Mateo boy and a Belmont girl have been selected as the grand prize winners in The Post-Times' fourth annual Christmas contest for youthful readers.

Chosen for the $15 merchandise prizes from among the hundreds of letters received from youngsters between 6 and 10 years of age on the subject "What Christmas Means to Me" are the letters written by:

James L. Pagano, 9, of 1728 Roberta Drive, San Mateo, and Jackie McGrew, 6, of 1904 Oak Knoll Drive Belmont.

Winner of the grand prize in the boys' division, James, wrote in his letter:

"Christmas means to me that we go and worship. The stores are closed. We get gifts. We go to my grandmother's home. We have a Christmas tree with white, blue, red and green bulbs. We have chicken spaghetti. It's much fun. We have no school for one week. I hope everyone gets toys. It was the birthday of Jesus Christ."

A fourth grader at Bayside School, James has a brother, 7, and two sisters, 8 and 3. He says he plans to use his prize to repay his parents for money they lent him to buy Christmas presents.

The girls' winner, Jackie, is in the first grade at Belmont's Louis Barrett School. She has two brothers, 14 and 4, and two sisters, 12 and 9. In her winning letter, Jackie writes:

"You get toys and it is when Jesus was born. It makes me happy and it makes me think a Christmas tree. I'm glad God sent Jesus down to earth."

Jackie said she will use some of her prize to get her younger brother a Christmas present. Two winners were selected each day from among the hundreds of entries received, with the photographs of the writers and their letters appearing in The Post-Times. Daily winners were awarded merchandise certificates worth $5 to be redeemed in any business advertising on the "Gift Spotter" page.

Tigers Nip S. F. School

The Terra Nova Tigers battled to a nip-and-tuck 54-52 victory over Lick-Wilmerding last week to even their practice game record at 3-3.

A trio of Tigers, Hank Dagenais, Stan Olney and Rich Schafer, hit double digits to lead their team to the win.

The Tigers edged ahead in the third quarter 36-33 and then traded baskets with the San Francisco team to notch the win.

LIGHTWEIGHT CAGERS

Bearcats Win Jeff Tourney

The San Mateo Bearcats thwarted a last-minute rally by the Jefferson Indians to repeat as champions of the annual Jefferson Lightweight Invitational Tournament last week.

San Mateo's Bob Hall dumped in a lay-up and two free throws in the last minute of play to lead his team to a 61-57 victory over the Indians. It was the second annual tourney.

In other games Wednesday, South San Francisco beat Carlmont, 65-57, for third place. Aragon topped Terra Nova, 52-38, in the consolation game and El Camino downed Oceana, 41-36, for seventh place.

The championship game turned out to be one of the most hotly contested in the tournament, according to tournament director Mic Kelly.

The two teams were knotted at 19-19 at the end of the first quarter. With Hall leading the way, the Bearcats pulled away in the second quarter to lead at halftime, 38-32.

The Indians, with Jerry Benson having a good day at the free throw line, cut the lead to 48-45 by the end of third quarter and continued to gain through the final stanza.

With a minute 26 seconds remaining, San Mateo hung on to a 57-55 lead. Then Hall drove in for his lay-up and followed with his two charity scores to crush the Indian uprising.

Jefferson's Vic Quan closed out the scoring with a two-point shot.

Hall and Benson tied for scoring honors with 19 apiece, but Benson set a tournament record in free throws by hitting 11. Both were named to the tournament's All-Star team.

CSM trailed nearly the entire game, leading the Bakersfield cagers only at a 43-42 juncture early in the second half.

Dennis O'Brien led the Bulldog offense with 24 points, his low-water scoring output for the three-day tournament, while Dick Drake tossed in 13.

Bakersfield's John Sienrukos led both teams in scoring with 26.

The loss gave the CSM cagers a 7-3 mark for the season. The Bulldogs dropped their opening contest to the USF frsh team.

Bulldogs Are Eliminated

College of San Mateo was eliminated from the Modesto Junior College Basketball tournament last week in Modesto after sustaining a 69-64 loss at the hands of Bakersfield.

The consolation round defeat was the Bulldogs' second in junior college competition this season and ousted them from the tournament which they won last year.

CSM trailed nearly the entire game, leading the Bakersfield cagers only at a 43-42 juncture early in the second half.

Dennis O'Brien led the Bulldog offense with 24 points, his low-water scoring output for the three-day tournament, while Dick Drake tossed in 13.

Bakersfield's John Sienrukos led both teams in scoring with 26.

The loss gave the CSM cagers a 7-3 mark for the season. The Bulldogs dropped their opening contest to the USF frsh team.

All-Tourney Selections

Dan Cicero of Carlmont was the only repeater on the All-Star team of the Second Annual Jefferson Lightweight Invitational Tournament last week.

Also selected to the ten man team were: Larry Asterland (SSF); Ron Beales (SSF); Bill Jensen (Carlmont); Bob Hall (San Mateo); Frank Yam (San Mateo); Jerry Benson (Jefferson); Larry Monti (Jefferson); Bruce Reed (Aragon), and Gordon Sanoff (El Camino).

COMMENT

Leniency Versus Public Opinion

BEING A JUDGE is often a matter of lonely perplexity. This is truest, perhaps, when the matter of sentencing a wrongdoer rests in the final decision of a judge. He has before him all the evidence the court could provide and the reports of the probation officers. But his, alone, is the determination of what penalty shall be meted out in accordance with the law.

It must have been in such a position that San Mateo County Superior Court Judge Frank W. Rose, an excellent and most compassionate jurist, recently found himself with respect to the sentencing of two juveniles. One of them was a 17-year-old boy who was adjudged guilty of gross negligence in a highway collision that cost the lives of three innocent persons. He had been charged with drinking prior to the fatal collision. The other was an 18-year-old girl who admitted to using marijuana and to selling this dangerous hallucinatory drug to her former schoolmates in high school.

In both cases Judge Rose chose leniency and released the young defendants on probation subject to mild conditions of behavior. He was strongly concerned that both should rehabilitate themselves.

IT NEEDS TO be said, however, that a substantial segment of the public, including this newspaper, is in disagreement with Judge Rose's leniency in these cases.

It is recognized that the manner of handling them is invested in the courts, but the public looks to the courts and the law for protection from all persons, juvenile or adult, who commit acts contrary to the law and injurious to the public safety and welfare.

If, as in these two cases, the acts were aggravated offenses, it is natural and proper for the public to feel it has been denied the protection of the law by judicial leniency.

NOT JUST in these two cases, but in an ever-increasing number of similar cases, many persons are of the opinion that some judges, no matter how compassionate or well-intentioned, have been showing an overweening disposition to protect juvenile offenders instead of the public.

This is not the public concept of the law and its purposes.

Members of the public, too, have compassion. They have compassion for a family that has been bereaved of three children by the act of a reckless juvenile. They have compassion for the parents of children who were sold marijuana and exposed to the horror of drug addiction.

In the difficult and lonely hours of decision judges might well weigh these factors along with those of rehabilitating an offender.

The Marquee

L.A. Can Be Envied

Barbara Bladen

LOS ANGELES never had anything the Bay Area could envy, until now, and it's called The Music Center. Located four blocks behind the Biltmore Hotel, in downtown Los Angeles and across the street from the county courthouse on what is known as Bunker Hill, the impressive glass and concrete building commands a wide view of the business, and residential areas. It has a framing mountain range in the distance.

The most enviable aspect is the facilities it offers for opera, concerts, symphony, and musical comedies. The five leading Bay Area critics were the guests of Edwin Lester for a one-day flight to see this beautiful structure. He has every reason to be proud and happy about it: his Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Association (known here as the San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association) will occupy the 3,200-seat theater seven months of the year and maintain headquarters in the opulently decorated and designed offices in the same building.

KNOWN FOR his keen theatrical judgment and excellent production taste, Lester was a principal advisor to the architect, Welton Beckett. The Los Angeles Board of Supervisors donated the land and Dorothy Buffum Chandler, monumental patroness of the arts, turned a dream (and necessity) into a $33.5 million performing arts complex of the Music Center (called The Pavilion). Two structures are yet to be built, including a 2,100-seat legitimate theater and a 750-seat theater-in-the-round.

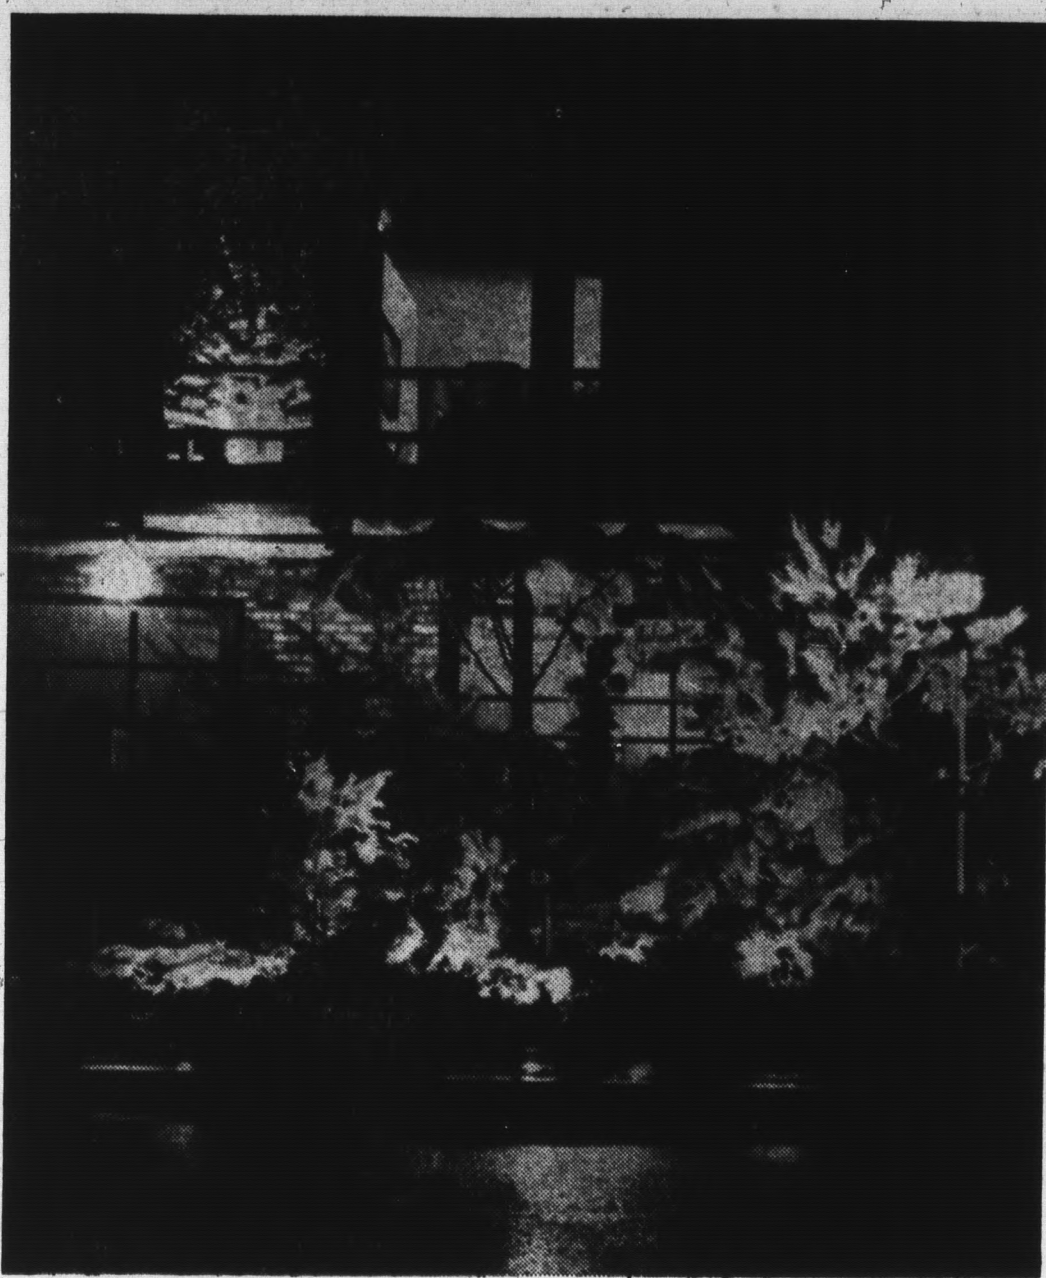

We to the north can only be chagrined at the overnight maturity evidenced in this living tribute to peace and unequalled cultural contribution to the cultural life of an area too long ridiculed as a tasteless community. Although only one building is completed, we find it superior to Lincoln Center in New York. It outclasses the east coast complex in superior design, decor, comfort, and acoustics.

ATOP THE five-floor theatre is a handsome restaurant. There is a coffee shop and bar at the street level. The interior is of polished wood and white marble set off by muted olive green and gold wall-to-wall carpeting. Crystal chandeliers costing $50,000 apiece reflect upward to the mirrored ceiling and across to a double grand staircase.

A carpet of white potted azaleas and greenery enhances the circular lobby. There are no aisles in the auditorium, the rows curve from wall-to-wall and the gold lame curtain designed by Tony Duquette dominates the interior setting.

The week-long dedication ceremonies were capped by Lester's tribute to light opera. He presented an album of nostalgia narrated by Alfred Drake and Florence Henderson and supported in song by Jean Fenn, John Reardon, Frank Porretta, Maralin Niska, and dancers Roy Fittell and Melanie Alexander.

But the guest appearance of composer Rudolf Friml (a most notable contributor to the light opera repertoire) and Ira Petina (one of the all-time greats of the musical comedy age) added that extra zest to a show which should, above all others, play a long run engagement. Unfortunately, much of the talent was donated for the auspicious occasion and the performers had to return immediately after the banquet to their regular productions.

A CO-GRAND prize winner in this year's Christmas home-decorating contest, sponsored by the Westlake Homeowners Improvement Association, is this home owned by August Conci at 14 Westpark Drive, Daly City. Theme of his decorations is "Winter Islander." That's a simulated palm tree, made out of ferns, on the front lawn. Conci won $50 for his efforts. He is parks superintendent for Daly City. The other co-grand prize winner was Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alvord of 444 Higate Drive. (Post-Times Photo) (Post-Times Photo)

Daly City's Own Hangover

Ron Bates

IN A FEW days, the year 1964 will be history and a new year will begin. Many people will begin the new year with a headache, the catalyst of which had its beginning in the past year.

Cities can be thought of very much in the same light. They always seem to have headaches of some sort—some of long standing and others that had their inception recently.

In Daly City, there are some imminent decisions that will have to be made by the City Council during the next year or the subsequent councils and the people will be suffering from the resulting headaches for years to come.

TAKE RAPID TRANSIT for example—people will feel the pain from this problem where it hurts most—in the pocketbook.

Daly City, I think, got the short end of the stick in a one-year tax on motor vehicles to finance a study of rapid transit for San Mateo County.

Although Daly City folk will contribute a good share of the money because they live in the second largest city in the county, the benefits will not be in proportion.

The main purpose of any rapid transit facilities in San Mateo County will be to transport workers from their Peninsula homes to San Francisco. Daly City is so close to San Francisco that many residents here still believe we're part of it.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi is on the West Bay Transit Authority board, which will control the money.

It will be up to him and the wheeling-dealing and support he gets from the council to make sure Daly City residents get at least something for their money.

AND IF ALL THAT isn't enough, the Bay Area Rapid Transit District wants to build a station in Daly City — although San Mateo County is not a member of the district.

The station will take 175 homes off the tax rolls, render the city's $500,000 Knowles Avenue project ineffectual unless an overpass is built, and create a myriad of other problems like police protection, noise, traffic patterns etc.

What the district will give to the city in return is the possible increase in land value for property surrounding the station.

In addition, BARTD will become an autonomous district within the boundaries of Daly City. City officials haven't had too much luck with another autonomous entity called the Cow Palace Board of Directors, and once burned, twice cautious.

The City Council has a perfect wedge in its control of streets around the station and could render the station an autonomous "island."

Next year will be the year of decision for the station and it will be interesting to see how effectively the council uses this wedge to protect the city's interests.

ANOTHER MAJOR job for the council next year will be the city's new zoning ordinance.

Apartment have been popping up like wildfire all over the city. Some of them, particularly in the older section of the city and around the new city civic center site, have come in for a good deal of criticism for their "box" design.

One of the main reasons for the development of these buildings is the city's present liberal zoning law.

The only persons that have spoken for or against the proposed new ordinance have been the developers and it's feasible that the weight of their words (something against nothing) may be enough to have the ordinance changed.

THE NEW CITY hall at Ninetieth Street and Sullivan Avenue will be another headache that the council must contend with next year.

With Police Department and Public Works Department personnel virtually crawling over one another in crowded conditions at both the War Memorial Building and in the present City Hall, the new building is a must.

It will be up to the council not only to plan for today's needs but for tomorrow's needs also.

For Daly City has shot up to a 60,000 population in just 10 years and with the development of Serramonte and the probability of the development of the Crocker Estates, the city has a potential of over 100,000.

So just think, once the councilmen have solved all the woes of 1964 in 1965, they can look forward to the solutions of 1965's problems in 1966.

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

HOW WOULD YOU like to have heard Paul Revere describe his famous ride or heard Benjamin Franklin at 81 make a profound declaration: "Sir, I agree to this Constitution with all its faults, if they are such, because I think a general government is necessary for us . . . etc." or perhaps rode with Sam Houston in the Texas war?

How would you like to have heard the comments of the survivors of the Donner party, or watched Teddy Roosevelt charm a crowd, or been with Woodrow Wilson the night before he asked Congress to declare war on Germany, or rode to France on D-Day, or been on John F. Kennedy's campaign train.

These and other dramatic moments from American history are recorded by eye witnesses in a three-volume set prepared by Richard B. Morris and James Woodress for junior and senior high school people.

THE SELECTIONS in this valuable set come from diaries, letters, memoirs, biographies, essays and oft-told tales.

They have been put together to comprise a chronological record of American history that quickens the imagination like a play or a motion picture.

Volume I covers the period between 1607 and the defeat of John Quincy Adams.

Volume II is filled with the selections from the pioneer period, the Civil War, and the rest of the nineteenth century. Volume III is devoted to the twentieth century.

Each volume is made more valuable by the inclusion of a detached table of contents in addition to an index, notes and a few photographs.

WITH THE hindsight of history, we pass our judgments on the men who made our country but seldom do we pause to consider the emotions that stirred their blood.

Collections like "Voices From America's Past" make us pause and let the emotions of the past be paraded before us and the words of the patriots ring in our ears.

Hence they are among the most valuable books in the library.

Now for the Great Resolve

Don Miller

THIS IS the time of the Great Resolve—in the North County, in Tibbucktu, in just about any place where homo sapiens hangs his hat.

As the year slides wearily down December's ways to No. 365, the general order of business in the near and far reaches is to start making New Year's resolutions.

Some of these resolutions are made right after the last ones went down the drain—about the third day of January. For there doesn't seem to be anything with a shorter life span than a New Year's pledge — except perhaps a politician's promise to cut taxes.

Why we make resolutions to break is open to a lot of conjecture but it is perhaps the mark of all of us that we like to keep trying and at least the declaration of intent—with maybe a few hours of compliance to follow—serves as an excellent catharsis.

THE KIND OF resolutions we make varies, of course, with the individual but generally, they follow along the lines of habits—bad habits or what we think are bad habits.

The guy who plunks his silver into a cigarette machine so often he could do it blindfolded solemnly vows to reduce consumption by 50 per cent—which would cut him back to something like 40 a day.

The wife who hasn't made it out of bed for the past six months to wrestle with the toaster and brew the coffee for hubby's breakfast promises faithfully that her spouse will have company across from his Morning Blast after January 1.

Junior vows to cease the steady barrage of paper rockets (they used to be airplanes, remember?) in English class and get down to the business of pulling something higher than a C-minus.

And his sister declares (even though silently) that she'll refrain from raiding mom's cosmetic cache and playing grownup everytime the folks are over to the neighbors for a gathering.

Even Bowser gets into the act. He woofs that he'll somehow steel himself against the temptation and cease and desist from reclining on the living room sofa instead of in his non-upholstered box down in the basement.

WHEN WE'RE not resolving to short circuit bad habits, then we're usually resolving to make the good ones.

For example, although Dad hasn't noticed it (or if he has, he's been looking the other way—like up), he's been steadfastly donning a tire around the middle to the extent that profile from side equals profile from front.

So he resolves to embark upon an ambitious program of exercise—like maybe walking to work a couple of days a week or trying a few deep knee bends before shaving.

Peninsula Panorama Those Old Days Weren't So Good

George Whitesell

FOR THE BENEFIT of some pessimistic Peninsulaers who long for the return of the "good old days," this department has been getting up a list of changes that are all to the good.

These are little things, mostly, changes that the passage of time has brought without anyone taking particular notice.

We have tried to arrange them in some order, starting before the turn of the century and running up into the comparatively recent days of the depression.

Later than that there are some worthwhile changes but we do not yet have sufficient perspective to properly appreciate them.

BEFORE 1900, to get started, the fair sex on the Peninsula suffered some harrassments that have long since faded away.

A lady on a shopping trip downtown in those days usually had to walk. There was no public transport and harnessing up a horse and buggy was a far more complicated chore than stepping into an auto and driving off.

As she walked downtown in high-button shoes, there was no sidewalk and her skirts and several petticoats skittered along in the dust of summer and the mud of winter.

When she got downtown, there were board or brick sidewalks, but these presented an even worse hazard owing to the fact that they were liberally splattered with tobacco juice in an era when most of the male population chewed tobacco.

Her shopping choices were severely limited to the stock in trade at the mostly small stores in whichever Peninsula city she lived.

There were no ready-made dresses or underclothes for her to choose. She had to buy yardgoods and make her own.

On her way home she carried her purchases in a basket, no matter how much they weighed.

She cooked on a wood and coal range most of the year, likely chopped her own kindling and pumped her own water.

HER HUSBAND started the day by cleaning the stable and chopping the stove wood before breakfast.

And after a while the tire gets flat and Dad beams with satisfaction that he kept at least one resolution and then he promptly slips back into the old arm chair, pipe and paper routine and the profile is back where it was before.

MOM, MEANWHILE, has decided with great conviction that the New Year would be a fine time to finally get the family budget in shape (she's one of those who wears the fiscal pants in the family) and some sort of reasonable balance of monetary inflow and outflow.

So she's off to the market with shopping list meticulously prepared and sterling ideas of what inexpensive foods to buy and what expensive delicacies not to buy.

And before she knows it, there's that heavenly (and costly) piece of French pastry beckoning from the bakery counter or an absolutely gigantic (both in size and price) New York cut steak yearning for attention in the meat department and alas and alack, all those stentorian proclamations about economy on the home front have suddenly been drowned out by a chorus of "hmmmm, now wouldn't that taste good for supper?"

DESPITE THE general aura of defeat that usually marks the resolution front in most households before an all-too-short portion of the New Year has gone by, there ARE those lucky few who manage to stick it out for quite a bit and, in rare and highly laudable case, all the way to No. 365.

Of course, these are not mortal men or women.

Like the guy with the cigarettes, for example. Yes, he not only cut back to 40, he went whole hog and scored a real coup by ditching the weed altogether.

Of course, now he chews bubblegum like mad, barks at his wife so often he drowns out the neighborhood dogs, waddles atrociously because he's gained 30 pounds and has gotten into the unenviable habit of staring at guests who puff merrily away during coffee after dinner.

Or maybe like that gal who resolved to chuck the extra hour of sleep and greet her mate at breakfast each day. Yes, she not only gets up early now and fixes the fixings for hubby's get-away, she gets on the phone as well to a legion of others who made the same resolution.

Now her mate doesn't know which was worse—making his own breakfast every day or having it made and then listening to the United Nations of the neighborhood deliver the morning report.

Maybe it's this sort of thing that prompts the early demise of resolutions. But whatever it is, we hope you'll be joining us in the Great Resolve at 12:01 a.m. this Friday.

For one day or 365, that is!

He had to shave himself with a straight razor or have a barber do the job.

He conducted his business without benefit of telephone or business machines. If he was a carpenter or mechanic, he had to do everything the hard way with simple, manual tools.

By 1910 there were some changes, but it was still a far cry from modern times.

Women still walked most places but their skirts cleared the ground and sidewalks were in use. Spitting on the walkways had become impolite, but she still had to be wary when she passed a saloon or a pool room.

Shopping conditions had improved, and ladies were now nerved up to where they would take a train to San Francisco, unescorted, for a shopping trip.

At home they cooked with gas and had stopped trimming the lamps everyday in favor of gas or newfangled electric lights. But they had to empty the pan under the icebox every day, shell their own peas, and talk their husbands into beating the carpets.

If hubby had graduated from horses, he drove to the "garage" where a greasy mechanic filled his gas tank using a measuring can.

CHANGES FOR the better came rapidly during this period and accelerated after World War I, but the depression slowed them down to a walk again.

Electric refrigerators were available, but few had cash to buy them.

The Peninsula was luckier than most places but a good many families had to get by on a budget of $52 per month which was the amount paid on WPA jobs. Other jobs were few.

And even the wealthiest families got a rude shock when the banks closed down, some of them never to reopen. There was no deposit insurance.

These are things about the "good old days" that should not be forgotten.

Radio broadcasting is now over half a century old but television is only in its second decade.

This department doesn't think anyone wants to go back to a time when a man gave his wife a new washboard for her birthday and she responded with a new buck-saw.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

IF YOUR HOLIDAY plans include a New Year's party, perhaps you will be interested in some new ideas for refreshments. Successful party giving, whether it be a New Year's party, a dinner party or a Ground Hog Day party, requires planning, making and doing ahead.

One of the more pleasant "do-aheads" is the making of canapés. They are fun to make and a delight to serve. Since we all have the basic accompaniments to drinks at a party—chips and dips, crackers and cheese, nuts and such—the presentation of the attractive foods described here will brighten your serving with something different.

Many of these recipes come from a cookbook compiled by the Mothers' Guild of St. Raphael's School in San Raphael. And judging by the recipes, these mothers are an imaginative lot and love to cook.

In these weight-conscious days, many people want to avoid the foods that are calorie-filled. So we will start off with a dip for raw vegetables.

RAW VEGETABLE DIP

- 1/4 lb. blue cheese
- 4 oz. cream cheese
- 3 tablespoons vermouth
- 1 small clove garlic, mashed
- Sour cream
- Vegetables

Combine cheeses, garlic and vermouth. Add enough sour cream to make mixture right for dunking. In choosing vegetables, mix celery, carrots, onions, zucchini, turnips, etc.

NEXT WE will think of some small, easy to prepare and eat appetizers that will make your lazy susan a delight to the eye.

1. Cut stuffed olives in two. Cut Swiss cheese with a small round or square cutter. Place the cheese between the halves of olives and hold together with a toothpick.

2. Fill pitted dates with cream cheese.

3. Spread one slice of dried beef with cream cheese. Roll as tightly as possible. Spread another slice of dried beef in the same way and roll on the first one. Chill and slice if desired.

4. Put pecan or walnut halves together with cream cheese.

In the center of your lazy susan you can put a burning bush.

BURNING BUSH

- 3 ounces chipped beef
- 6 ounces (two-thirds cup) cream cheese
- 1 grapefruit or large red apple

Dry beef and crumble. Form cheese into balls and roll in chipped beef until they are entirely coated. Place toothpicks in balls and stick them into a grapefruit or large apple.

THESE SALAMI canapés are really delicious and they can be made well ahead and frozen. This is a wonderful boon to the busy hostess.

SALAMI CANAPES

- 2 inches salami
- 1 pkg. cream cheese, 3 ounces
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic
- 2 French rolls

Grind salami and combine with cheese, mayonnaise and garlic. Scoop out the inside of the rolls from the end and stuff with the salami mixture. Refrigerate overnight. Slice very thin. These may be frozen ahead.

SPEAKING OF French rolls, they are a real help in planning and preparing for a party. For they are just right for a bite-sized canapé.

FRENCH ROLL CANAPES

Slice French rolls thin and spread with any of the following mixtures:

1. Place a thin, bit of onion on roll, then a bit of mayonnaise and sprinkle grated American cheese over all. Broil.

2. Place a thin slice of cheese and top with a bit of bacon. Broil.

3. Combine ground round steak with finely chopped onion, salt and pepper. Heap onto sliced French roll and broil.

Last but not least on the list of canapés is this recipe for small meat balls to be served from a chafing dish.

SWEET AND SOUR COCKTAIL MEAT BALLS

- 1 lb. ground round steak
- 1 cup cracker meal
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- Garlic powder to taste
- Onion powder to taste
- 1 bottle tomato catsup
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup water
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 whole medium onion

Make small meat balls by combining meat, meal, egg, garlic and onion powders—use a bit of catsup if necessary to form. Brown in skillet until lightly brown. Combine all other ingredients in deep pan with whole onion (remove onion before serving) and bring to boil. Add meat balls and simmer gently for one hour. To serve, place in chafing dish.

I HOPE your New Year's party is a great success and that the New Year brings to each of you health, happiness and a wealth of friends.

WESTMOOR STUDENTS Flip Reade, Debbie Leech and Susan Foster and special activities teacher Dick Hart arrived at school in the middle of a rainstorm on the first day of Christmas vacation last week for the school's annual Goodwill Industries clothing "weigh-in." They joined more than 100 students at the event—held to see which class had contributed the most material for the school's tenth annual clothing drive. The seniors collected 5,100 pounds to win the drive. The junior class collected 2,200 pounds and the sophomores and freshmen gathered up 600 pounds.

'Uncle Vanya' to Open Workshop Run on Friday

"Uncle Vanya," Anton Chekov's comedy about rural life in Russia at the turn of the century, opens a month's run Friday at The Actor's Workshop Marines Theater.

A special New Year's Eve preview for the public will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. The Chekov play is the third subscription production of the professional theater's 1964-65 season.

Featured in the new production are Robert Symonds in the title role, with Tom Rosqui as the disillusioned doctor Astrov, and Beatrice Manley playing the young wife Yelena, whose relationships with the men around her form the story of the play.

Rhoda Gemignani plays Sonya, Yelena's step-daughter, who, with her Uncle Vanya, saves the family estate from decay.

Performances of "Uncle Vanya" after the holiday opening are scheduled for Wednesday through Sunday evenings, with Saturday matinees, through January 30. Tickets for both the New Year's Eve preview and the entire run are available through The Workshop's box office, 609 Sutter Street, or by phone at PRospect 5-4232.

Jo Ann Beasley and Greg Moore Are Wed

A handkerchief carried for 70 years by a great-grandmother was the "something old" used by the bride, JoAnn Beasley of Daly City, when she was married recently to Gregory Moore, also of Daly City.

OLM Solidarity to Enroll Members

New members of the Solidarity of Our Lady of Mercy parish will be enrolled Sunday at the 9 a.m. mass.

Mrs. Paul Neagle, spiritual director, said a breakfast, served by members of the men's club, will be held after the enrollment.

Mrs. Victor Sariotti is chairman of the affair. Reservations and further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Sariotti at PL 5-3509 or Mrs. Neagle at PL 5-7647.

Kitchen notes: If you like to use baby foods occasionally for the whole family, you'll find it convenient to remember that the 4½-ounce size yields ¾ cup, and the 8-ounce size yields 1½ cup.

Lecture Series On S.F. Symphony Programs Slated

The Women's Public Interest Committee of the San Francisco Symphony Association, in co-operation with the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, has instituted a series of lectures on forthcoming symphony programs.

The lectures, geared for music students, musicians and the public, will be held at noon most Tuesdays preceding concerts by the orchestra. Programs will be held in the auditorium of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, 1201 Ortega Street.

The first presentation of the New Year will be at noon, Tuesday. Bay Area composer Kirke Mechem will hold an open discussion on musical composition.

Admission to the lectures will be free and open to the public. Coffee and sandwiches will be available from the school's cafeteria.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, 27 Ocean side Drive, Daly City.

Serving as best man for the ceremonies was Bill Turner of Daly City who was on leave from the Marine Corps.

The couple had a Carmel honeymoon before taking up residence in Daly City.

Lecture on Unweds at Westmoor

Jean Bolten, the executive director of the Florence Crittenton Home of San Francisco, will speak at the Westmoor Little Theater, January 13 at 8 p.m.

Her appearance will be sponsored by the North Peninsula Chapter of the Florence Crittenton Home.

According to Chairman Mrs. Jean Markovich, Miss Bolten will reveal some startling facts about the unwed mothers from the suburbs.

The meeting will be open to the public.

The North Peninsula Chapter, Mrs. Markovich explains, is a group of volunteers whose activities, interest and financial support are directed toward the welfare of unmarried mothers who are receiving care and services from the home.

The organization was formed two years ago because the Florence Crittenton Home has a policy to organize volunteer groups in areas from which they are receiving a large number of girls.

Mrs. Markovich said there will be a question and answer period after Miss Bolten's talk.

Winter is here. Call us today for free estimate. Our prices are reasonable and our work top quality. We also do gutters, wall heaters and leaders.

By LOUANNE HEATH

ADO, 1964, and a happy New Year to all my readers. It has been a pleasure reporting on your activities for the past 12 months and I sincerely look forward to continuing contacts with all of you during 1965.

If the old year is fading away all too quickly and if you feel you really didn't do all you would like to have done to help this muddled world during 1964, consider the new and exciting project being directed by the Rev. and MRS. Jack Gorham.

The Gorhams are currently in this country on a one-year furlough from their missionary post in Mu lungwisi, the Congo. They are creating a good deal of excitement among a large number of people who are concerned with having a part in improving the condition of men in other countries where food and clothing are often nearly impossible to obtain and where an education is an undreamed of luxury.

The plan that the Gorhams have put into operation is very simple, and yet it is far-reaching in that many people are able to feel they have a direct part to play in helping improve the lot of untold numbers of Africans. Basically, the program consists of many people pledging only $1 regularly to an education fund for a young African student the Gorhams helped bring to this country.

Ruben Katobola, the student, was born in the village of Kapwasa, northeast of Elizabethville, Katanga Province, Congo. His parents were prosperous enough to send Ruben to missionary schools and he thus completed high school in his native land.

This past April, he applied for admission to Central Washington State College in Ellensburg and was accepted as a pre-medical student. He hopes to continue his work in this country until he is able to finish preparation for a career as a doctor in the Congo.

Anyone who would like to have a part in this undertaking is asked to call Mrs. Thomas Harris, FL 5-5792, in San Bruno for more information.

IF THE CHRISTMAS holidays have left you with personal problems, perhaps a few unwanted pounds here and there, Mrs. Joan Klein of Westlake has some wonderful suggestions to help you get back in shape in no time!

Mrs. Klein recently has been responsible for an innovation in the gym program at San Francisco's Presentation Academy.

"Athletes and ballerinas don't monopolize the ancient exercises recently publicized as isometrics and isotonic," Mrs. Klein emphasizes as she speaks of her new program designed to teach 180 freshmen a combination of dancing, exercise, and poise.

Isometrics — exercises performed without motion — consists of controlling breathing and muscle contractions and isotonic exercises are performed with various motions, which create equal tension.

According to Mrs. Klein, proper diet and rest, accompanied by a daily 10-minute routine of the isometric and isotonic exercise, can improve general health and appearance tremendously. The response to her program of exercises has been gratifying and she plans to present a demonstration designed to illustrate the dramatic changes the exercises can make.

For those of you who are interested in this "effortless" way to figure control, Mrs. Klein suggests any of the books on the subject that are beginning to appear in local stores.

WESTLAKE'S Senior Citizens greeted Father Christmas in a jolly manner Wednesday afternoon in the Community Baptist Church.

Gaily decorated tables, which featured a profusion of paracantha berries and holly leaves, were made especially memorable by bejeweled eggshell favors — all the creations of talented Clara Shoeman.

President Beatrice Batz and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cieley, sang for the members and then led the community singing that followed the luncheon.

Also entertaining the assembly were Marilyn Wagner and her grandfather, club treasurer Willard Wagner. The Duo played a medley of Christmas music and performed "Deep Purple" for an encore.

Santa Claus and his helper, Clade Putnam and Aimee Morrison, distributed gifts at the close of the program.

IN ADDITION to all the activities that normally occupy the time of families during this time of year, the Bill Wagner family of Daly City has been kept especially busy by the dancing engagements of their daughter, Dianne.

Twelve-year-old Dianne is in her third year with the San Francisco Ballet Company and has danced the part of one of the Russians in the "Nutcracker Suite" during two performances in Palo Alto and one in Concord in addition to all of the regular performances at the San Francisco Opera House.

FORMER LOCALITE and ex-president of the Rotary, Lee Brillhart, was confined to Red Bluff's St. Elizabeth Hospital during the Christmas season and messages for a complete and quick recovery continue to go northward to him from his many friends.

Brillhart injured his back in an accident some time ago.

TOMORROW will be the deadline for reservations for the annual Holy Angels Women's Guild breakfast, according to Mrs. Ann Theis, publicity chairman for the guild.

Members will attend the 8 a.m. Mass January 3 and then proceed to the El Rancho Motel in Millbrae for breakfast.

For information or reservations, call Mrs. Stella Smith at PL 57143.

THE NEW YEAR is full of exciting promise for Susan Goheen, a Westlake resident who divides her time between attending college, working as a receptionist for Doug Mack's studio and modeling.

Susan, who hails from Santa Rosa, has been signed to do regular modeling chores for the City of Paris fashion shows starting the first of the year.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL KRAMER of Daly City hosted their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goditti and Mrs. Carol Powers during the Christmas holidays. The Godittis, who are from Monte Rio, and Mrs. Powers, who lives in Marin, traditionally spend Christmas with

HOWARD STITES and Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold and son, Scott Evan, traveled to Sacramento where they spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stites. Also in Sacramento with the Stites family was their other daughter, Mrs. John Dopp of Marysville. their children and grandchildren in Westlake.

REV. AND MRS. ARTHUR GOULD

Speakers at Nazarene to Start Year

The Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene will begin the new year with special services this Sunday and Sunday, January 10.

The Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Gould from Sturgis, Mich., will visit church workers. Reverend Gould will preach each evening except Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday services will be held 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The minister has preached throughout the nation and in other countries such as Canada, England, Ireland and Scotland. He has also carried on radio meetings, Youth for Christ rallies and conventions.

He has also carried on radio programs under the titles "The Sunday School of the Air," "Sunday Evening with the Pastor," and "Hymnology."

Mrs. Gould is an accomplished singer and has appeared as soloist and music director in camps, churches and conventions.

Rev. Vernon E. Thomas is pastor at the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, located at Washington Street and Edgeworth Avenue in Daly City.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

"Free But Conditional" is the title of the Pastor A. David Donnelly's sermon at the morning worship hour at 11 at the Westside Baptist Church Sunday.

A communion service is planned after the sermon.

At the Sunday evening service at 7 p.m. a family fellowship hour is planned with congregational singing, special music, testimonies and a message by Reverend Donnelly, entitled, "Does It Really Pay?"

Several members of the congregation will travel to Mt. Eden Baptist Church in Hayward for an annual New Year's Eve service Thursday night.

Baha'is Plan 36th Session

The Baha'i School at Geyserville will conduct its thirty-sixth winter session from Saturday through January 3.

The adult classes will consist of a series of workshops.

The newly formed Northern California Baha'i Youth Committee has planned a special three-day conference, beginning with a New Year's Eve dance.

A number of Daly City members of the Baha'i faith will attend the school.

Movie Featured At YFC Rally

Evangelist Billy Graham's motion picture, "Heart Is a Rebel," a feature length color production starring Ethel Waters, Georgia Lee and John Milford, is scheduled to be shown at a Youth for Christ rally in San Francisco Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Two pre-rally Bible quizzes will be held between teams from Westmoor, Terra Nova, Washington, San Mateo, Lincoln and Lowell High Schools. The quizzes will take place at 6:45 p.m. and the rally at 7:30.

The rally will be held at the War Memorial Auditorium.

Officers Named By Bible Class

The members of the Philogian Bible class of the First Baptist Church of South San Francisco have elected officers for the new year. They are: Mrs. Mack Campbell, president; Mrs. Minnie McKelien, vice president; Mrs. Alvin Sullivan, secretary; Mrs. Roy Craig, treasurer; and Mrs. Nettie Bailey, sunshine chairman.

WEATHER

Forecast for next 12 months:
Bright, clear, prosperous. More new families to add to San Mateo county's more than half-million population; more new businesses, schools, churches and recreation facilities. One hundred per cent chance of a good year predicted.

At Party Time Try This Punch

It's time for parties, and many other festive occasions. At your next get-together, serve a tray full of tempting tidbits plus a great new beverage, Hot Buttered Cranberry Punch.

This novel punch is easy and fun to make. The special ingredient which gives it zest is jellied cranberry sauce. For extra sparkle, it's blended with pineapple juice and spiced with cinnamon, allspice, nutmeg and cloves.

For the appetizer tray, prepare a variety of hot hors d'oeuvres. They're always a hit with guests, and surprisingly easy to do. Take Green Pepper Cheese Broil: it requires only 2 or 3 minutes under the broiler. Green pepper and crunchy bacon bits go into a smooth cream cheese and butter mixture, seasoned with garlic salt. This can be set aside until just before serving. Then whip it up to soften; add an egg. Mound it on toasted bread which you can have cut ahead of time into assorted shapes. Broil and serve.

Deviled Deckers are easy, too. The filling of deviled ham, shredded Swiss cheese and grated onion can be spread between three slices of bread and cut into cubes. Anchor each three-decker cube with a wooden pick. Refrigerate until just ready to serve; then bake three to five minutes or just long enough for the filling to become melty and the bread lightly browned.

Most unusual of all these appetizers is the recipe for Blue Cheese Nut Balls. Just four ingredients go into these nippy little cheese appetizers: crumbled blue cheese, butter, flour, and finely chopped pecans. Roll each cheese ball in more chopped pecans and bake. They are served cold so can be prepared ahead and frozen or stored in a covered container.

Hot Buttered Cranberry Punch
Yield: 2½ quarts (20 servings)
Saucepan, 4 to 5-quart

4 cups (2 1-lb. cans) jellied cranberry sauce
¾ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 quart water
1 quart unsweetened pineapple juice
1 cup (2 sticks) butter, cut into 20 pats
Stick cinnamon

In a large saucepan crush cranberry sauce with fork. Mix in brown sugar, cinnamon, allspice, cloves, nutmeg and salt. Gradually add water, beating until smooth with rotary beater. Stir in pineapple juice; heat to boiling, then simmer five minutes. Pour into punch cups; top each with pat of butter. Serve with cinnamon stick stirrers.

Green Pepper Cheese Broil
32 appetizers

Baking sheet—preheated broiler

2 strips bacon, cut up
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
2 packages (3 oz. ea.) cream cheese

¼ teaspoon garlic salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper

Cherry tomatoes
Pimiento-stuffed olives

Trim crusts from bread; cut into squares, rectangles or circles. Toast one side; set aside. Meanwhile fry bacon until crisp; drain on absorbent paper. Cream together butter and cream cheese until well blended; add garlic salt. Gradually add egg; beat until mixture holds its shape. Fold in green pepper and bacon. (Yield: 1½ cups) Mound on untoasted sides of bread; top with slices of tomato or olives. Broil 2-3 minutes or until lightly browned.

Deviled Deckers
36 appetizers
Shallow baking pan
Preheated 450 degree oven
1 can (4½ oz.) deviled ham
2 cups (½ lb.) shredded Swiss cheese

2 teaspoons grated onion
12 slices day-old bread
In a small bowl blend together ham, cheese and grated onion. Spread on bread to make four triple-decker sandwiches. Trim crusts from each sandwich; cut each into nine cubes (hold together with wooden picks). Bake 3-5 minutes or until heated through.

Blue Cheese Nut Balls
3 dozen

Baking Sheet
Preheated 350-degree oven
¾ cup crumbled blue cheese
¼ cup butter
¼ cup sifted flour
¾ cup finely chopped pecans

In a bowl cream together cheese and butter; beat until light and fluffy. Gradually add flour; blend thoroughly. Blend in ¼-cup pecans. Chill for ease in handling. Shape into balls ¾ to 1-inch in diameter; roll in remaining ¼-cup chopped pecans. Place on baking sheet; bake 12-15 minutes. Remove to wire racks to cool.

Keep Knife Sharpened

That roast beef or baked ham will be easier to carve if the knife is sharpened just before using. Knives tend to get dull upon standing.

The first rule of carving to remember is that meat is carved across the grain, rather than with the grain. The only exception to this rule is steak which is carved with the grain.

For easy carving let the roast "set" 15 to 20 minutes after removing it from the oven. Roasts continue to cook upon removal from the oven and should be removed about 5 degrees F. below the desired degree of doneness before they are to "set."

An Editor's Advice - 'Keep It Simple'

Robert Carrier, food editor of the London Sunday Times and British Vogue, is an American who has achieved recognition abroad as one of the most illustrious of a new generation of gourmets. He recently visited this country to introduce his new book, "Great Dishes of the World."

In preference to specialties which demand last-minute attention and those which cannot be held successfully for tardy guests, he likes to serve superbly flavored, peasant-style combination such as the following one for Mediterranean Chicken.

To keep the chicken golden during browning and to contribute a richer flavor, he employs the trick of many Continental chefs — the use of a blend of peanut oil and bacon fat.

MEDITERRANEAN CHICKEN
1 chicken (3 1/2 pounds)
1 1/2 cups diced fat bacon
8 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
1 cup pitted green olives
1/2 pound small mushrooms
Salt
freshly ground black pepper
6 tablespoons cognac
2 1/2 cups diced potatoes
4 tomatoes, quartered

Saute chicken and diced fat bacon in six tablespoons of peanut oil in a flame-proof casserole until chicken is golden on all sides. Add pitted green olives which have previously soaked in hot water for 15 minutes to remove excess salt, and small mushrooms. Season chicken to taste with a little salt. Moisten with cognac. Cover casserole and cook in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Sauté potatoes in remaining 2 tablespoons peanut oil. Add sautéed potatoes and tomatoes and simmer gently for another 15 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Serves four.

For a salad to accompany the Mediterranean Chicken, Mr. Carrier suggests a variety of crisp salad greens tossed with a Mustard Vinaigrette made with a peanut oil base.

Peanut oil, he finds, clings to the greens easily and evenly. Because its own flavor is subtle and unidentifiable, it allows the full flavors of the seasonings and salad greens to come through.

MUSTARD VINAIGRETTE
1/2 cup Planters Peanut Oil
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
Combine peanut oil, wine vinegar, parsley, dry mustard.

Keep Canned Milk Around

Good cooks are wise to the ways of evaporated milk, say home economists of the Dairy Council of California.

The concentrated, creamy character of this convenient, inexpensive pantry shelf item results in fine texture and flavor whether it is used for creaming coffee, in cooking or for that all-important formula for baby.

Carefully sterilized and sealed in the can, evaporated milk is absolutely safe and will keep indefinitely without refrigeration. Once the can is opened, however, it must be given the same careful care as fresh milk.

Mushroom Sauce

Mushroom Sauce
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
Combine ingredients in a saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, until heated through. Serve over cabbage rolls. Yield: One and one-third cups.

Chef's Salad
2 cups julienne-style cooked beef, pork or lamb
1 can (16 ounces) cut green beans, drained
1 cup sliced celery
2 medium tomatoes, cut in eighths
1/2 cup French dressing
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
4 slices cooked bacon, crumbled
Lettuce cups
Combine meat, green beans, celery and tomatoes. Combine French dressing, mustard, garlic salt and bacon. Pour over salad ingredients and toss lightly. Chill. Serve in lettuce cups. Four servings.

salt and pepper in a jar. Cover tightly. Shake until well blended. To serve, sprinkle over crisp salad greens and toss lightly. Makes almost 1/2 cup.

A Gourmet Meal With Chicken Base

Ever wonder what's in a name?

In Charleston Receipts, it's almonds in Chicken Country Captain and peanut butter in Baked crabmeat in New Cut Plantation Gumbo and tart apples in Huguenot Torte.

(x) Chicken Country Captain
1 bunch parsley (chopped)
4 green peppers (chopped)
2 large onions (chopped)
Cooking oil
1 (No. 2 1/2) can tomatoes
1 teaspoon mace
2 teaspoons curry powder
Salt and pepper to taste
1 clove garlic (chopped)
2 fryers, cut in pieces
Paprika and flour
1/2 box currants
Cooked rice

1/2 pound blanched almonds
Fry parsley, green peppers and onions in cooking oil slowly for 15 minutes. Put this mixture in roaster and add tomatoes, spices, salt and pepper. Simmer 15 minutes, then add garlic. Dredge chicken in a mixture of flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Fry till brown. Lay chicken in the sauce and simmer at 275 degrees in a covered roaster for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add currants 1/2 hour before serving. Arrange rice on a large platter, pour sauce over this and place pieces of chicken on top. Sprinkle toasted almonds on chicken. Serves 8.

(x) New Cut Plantation Gumbo
(Substitute frozen ingredients when fresh are not available)
1/2 pound raw ham
1/2 pound raw veal
1 pound raw shrimp
1 pound fresh crabmeat (dark)
3 medium onions
2 large cans tomatoes
1/2 pound fresh okra
1 large bell pepper
1 clove garlic
2 bay leaves
Few sprigs of parsley
A little thyme
2 tablespoons file powder
3 quarts water
Salt and pepper to taste
Cut ham, veal, okra, onion, bell pepper and parsley into small pieces and fry in bacon drippings. When brown, add boiling water, tomatoes, thyme, garlic, (cut fine) bay leaves, salt and pepper. Cook 30 minutes, then add shrimp and crab and cook 30 minutes longer. Add file powder, stirring well. This is better made the day before and reheated to allow the gumbo to become well-seasoned. Serve with steamed rice. Serves 16.

The following is a pleasing variation that promises to redeem eggplant in the eyes of its youthful critics.
(x) Baked Guinea Squash (Eggplant)
1 large (or 2 medium) squash
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 tablespoons peanut butter
1/2 cup blanched slivered almonds
1 tablespoon chopped onions
Pepper
Crackers
Boil squash in salted water until tender. Remove skin, mash squash in bowl. Add eggs, salt, pepper, onions, peanut butter and almonds. Mix and put in pyrex. Cover with crackers, crushed by hand, and some almonds. Bake about 20 minutes in 350 degree oven. Serves 6.

(x) Huguenot Torte
4 eggs
3 cups sugar
8 tablespoons flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups chopped tart cooking apples
2 cups chopped pecans or walnuts
2 teaspoons vanilla
Beat whole eggs in electric mixer or with rotary beater until very frothy and lemon-colored. Add other ingredients in above order. Pour into two well-buttered baking pans about 8 by 12 inches. Bake in 325 degree oven about 45 minutes or until crusty and brown. To serve, scoop up with pancake turner (keeping crusty part on top), pile on large plate and cover with whipped cream and a sprinkling of chopped nuts, or make 16 individual servings.

S.S.F. Bonds Purchased

Bank of America and Kenner, MacArthur & Company, has purchased the $1.5 million bond issue of the South San Francisco Unified School District, San Mateo County.
The Bank of America group paid a premium of $1.119 for a combination of 5, 3, 3.20 and 1-20th of 1 per cent bonds. The dollar bid was 100.075. Net interest cost to the district was 3.0874 per cent.
The bonds were re-offered to investors to yield from 2.25 per cent to a dollar price of par on the 3.20 per cent bonds, according to maturity Feb. 1, 1966-69. Bonds maturing in 1990 were not re-offered.

Coast Plans Tournament

The Pacifica Park Beach and Recreation Department will conduct a vacation Basketball Playday tournament for boys in the fifth through eighth grades Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Oceana High School gym.
Boys participating must be a member of a recreation department basketball team.
Each team will play the other entrant in the tournament at least once. The playday will be an offensive-defensive tournament with the team scoring the most points and the team having the least scored against them being a winner.
Participants are advised to bring a lunch because of the length of the tournament.

County to Get Road Monies

San Mateo County will receive $2.500 in state and federal funds for the construction of county roads included in the Federal Aid Secondary (FAS) System.
The allocation is for the 1965-66 fiscal year. The county will get $49,243 in FAS funds and $33,269 in state matching funds.

DOORHANDLES BROKEN
Wayne Gabriel of 30 Peter Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that doorhandles on his pickup truck, parked on School Street, had been broken.

The Cafeteria Crew at Westmoor

S.S.F. Has Third Entry In Contest

The City of South San Francisco once again has entered an ambitious entry in the annual National Cleanest Town Achievement Award Contest.
The entry, which comprises a 32-page scrapbook containing pictures and stories of the city's cleanup drive May 24 through June 13, will be judged in the 25,000 to 50,000 population class.
Preliminary judging will take place in Washington, D. C. January 20. For 1962, the city won third place in its population class and for 1963 received an honorable mention.
Final winners will be announced in Washington, February 8-9, during the National Cleanest Town Conference.

Thief Steals Yule Presents

A burglar with a bit of Christmas humbug about him made off with a fur stole and assorted Christmas presents last Tuesday from a South San Francisco home.
The thief took the presents, valued at $100, and the stole, valued at $1,500 from the home of Mrs. Bessie Larry, 2520 St. Cloud Drive.
Police reported the burglar apparently entered the home during the afternoon when no one was home.

Auto Strikes 3 Parked Cars

A Fremont motorist suffered slight injuries shortly after noon last Tuesday when his auto struck three parked cars on Hillside Boulevard, north of East Vista Avenue.

The motorist, George V. Urbani, 29, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco for facial lacerations.
Police said he was unable to give an account of the accident. The added that the area was being buffeted by high winds at the time.

IGNITION DAMAGED

Corrine Gomez of 676 Linda Mar Boulevard, Pacifica, reported to police last week that someone had tampered with the ignition of her auto while it was parked in the lot of a Westlake restaurant.

BETTER BUSINESS Return Policies Vary in Stores

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE MADDEST rush of the holiday season in stores is the day after Christmas when dissatisfied customers seek to return or exchange gifts.
From the number of calls received in the past, by the Better Business Bureau, there are many husbands and wives who do not check over the return policy of the store when they purchase merchandise.

Whether the store will exchange goods is strictly a matter of individual store policy and the customer has no legal right to a refund unless the merchandise was misrepresented or was defective.

Number One policy is that the seller will allow the buyer to return the merchandise for a cash refund, credit on account, credit slip on a future purchase, exchange for another item or almost anything the buyer desires—providing the article has not been torn, broken or used.

Number Two policy is the same as number one with the exception that there will be no cash refund or credit on account.

Number Three policy is that the seller will do nothing concerning gift return unless there is proven fraud or defective merchandise.

IN ALL fairness, why should the merchant be required to take back Christmas merchandise in January?

The merchandise was removed from the racks and shelves and any chance of sale missed.

Seasonal merchandise has to be sold during the season or closed out at reduce prices to make room and raise cash for fresh merchandise.

The merchant goes to considerable time and expense in making the original sale. He pays the salesman a salary and sometimes a commission. He is entitled to fair profit for his efforts and expense.

The matter of refund or exchange is strictly a privilege certain stores extend to their customers and should not be abused by unnecessary return of merchandise, which adds tremendously to the cost of doing business and in the end penalizes all customers.

Many buyers assume that because one store has a certain refund - exchange - credit policy, all stores have or should have the same policy.

THE BUYER should ask about the store policy before buying unless he knows what it is. In the event a cash refund on returned merchandise is desired, the buyer should ask that this be noted on his sales slip.

It is a general rule that special sales merchandise, sales of close outs and discontinued lines are final sales.

Certain items of intimate wearing apparel and bedding are legally non-returnable.

Again, the store, not the Better Business Bureau, sets its own policy on the returns and exchanged.

The Better Business Bureau enters only into the matters of adjustment between the seller and buyer.

Coast Gets U.S. Funds

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced that federal funds in the amount of $25,000 have been appropriated to cover 50 per cent of the cost of creating an emergency operations civil defense center in Pacifica, on the San Mateo County Coastside, to cost $50,000.
The appropriation, which must be matched by the City of Pacifica, provides for modification of a magazine bunker in an abandoned Nike Missile site near Pacifica.
The bunker also will be used by Pacifica as its police headquarters. The city has budgeted $27,000 for remodeling the facility for this purpose.

Bright Lights by Lloyd Johnson

Clubs and Restaurants For Gala New Year's Eve

By now all Christmas gifts have been exchanged for the right size, neckties, the right color. All that's left of 1964 is paying the bills and looking forward to the big Thursday evening New Year's Eve celebration which, according to the trend of conversation on the streets and in the club, should be a banner one.

Many folks will dine out, then scoot home to the fireside to toast in the New Year with their family and friends, dance, and add a few more cigarette burns to the rug and furniture. But this is a New Year's Eve party and everything goes—including the old year.

On the other hand, countless fun seekers will be gathering in smart restaurants and supper clubs, who, more than any other eve in the year, have entertainment schedules par excellence—with full course dinners to match.

If you don't already have a reservation in your favorite fun spot, "You'll be left at the post" (to coin a race track phrase)—only in this case, it could be the bed post. Your BRIGHT LIGHTER has listed a variety of top restaurants and night clubs who invite your holiday patronage. No matter which one you choose, you're sure to have fun.

BRIGHT LIGHTS will be back again on January 8, 1965, with a complete rundown on what's going on. So have fun, blow your horns (and "tops") and I'll do the same. A very HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU AND YOURS FROM ME AND MINE.

98 FAMILIES Operation Santa Is a Smash Hit

The 1964 version of Daly City's annual Operation Santa Claus scored a big hit, volunteer workers reported this week.

Because of the generosity of Daly City folk Christmas baskets — bulging with food and toys — were distributed this year to 98 needy families with a total of 378 children.

Hundreds of individuals, together with 23 religious, civic and fraternal organizations, participated in Operation Santa Claus.

About 9,200 cans of food were collected by children of elementary and high school age, officials reported.

Toys were collected by Marine Corps personnel and repaired by Daly City firefighters.

A spokesman for Operation Santa Claus termed this year's drive "one of the most successful" in the 14 years the program has been conducted. And the spokesman added:

"It is certainly a reflection of the type of people living in this area to recall the many individuals and organizations participating in this event to make a Merry Christmas for those less fortunate than they."

Coast Planners Okay Drain Plan

A more than $1 million city-allow the city to establish acre-wide drainage plan for the en- age-drainage fees for new sub- tire seven-mile length of the divisions.

Commissioners also unani- mously approved an application of Blackburn T. Garrett to re- zone 25 acres west of and ad- jacent to Sharp Park Boulevard to a planned community de- velopment.

Although it was not made clear last week exactly how the area will be developed, it is ex- pected that at least a portion is planned for apartments. Sub- division maps must be sub- mitted before any actual work is done, however.

EARLE COTTRELL of 59 Castillejo Drive, Daly City, has observed his 35th anniversary with Wells Fargo Bank. He is presently assistant cash- ier and assistant secretary in the real estate loan depart- ment of the bank's Marker and Montgomery Streets of- fice in San Francisco. He lives in Daly City with his wife, Maureen, and three children.

D.C. Yule Accidents Injure 7

A rash of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day traffic accidents in Daly City injured seven per- sons, police reported.

They blamed the accidents on a rush of last-minute Christmas shopping and bad driving con- ditions on the holiday.

All of the injured were treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco. Police issued one citation.

The accident locations and parties involved, according to police accident reports, were:

Junipero Serra Boulevard and Eighty-seventh Street, two cars; James Atkinson, 48, of San Francisco, driver of one of the autos, treated for a lip cut and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco; Minnie T. Powell, 61, of 728 Pepper Drive, San Bruno; driver of the second car.

In front of 355 Skyline Drive, two cars; Genevieve Eshoo, 29, of 493 Skyline, minor cuts, a passenger in a car driven by Peter Eshoo, 29, of 493 Skyline; Bessie Plotnik, 45, of 355 Sky- line, driver of the second car.

Hillside Boulevard and Alp Street, two cars; Diane Joyce, 19, of Santa Clara, minor abra- sions, a passenger in a car driven by Timothy J. O'Keefe, 23, of Santa Clara; Robert Stew- art, 46, of 6711 1/2 Mission Street, Daly City, driver of the second car.

Mayfair Market parking lot at 6967 Mission Street, three cars; Maria S. Machado, 42, of 359 Woodrow Street, Daly City, a driver, neck injury; John M. Mitchell, 22, of 459 Winchester Street, Daly City, driver, and George Brown, 30, of 261 Third Avenue, Daly City, a driver.

Mission and Garibaldi Streets, three cars; Vernon Linn, 47, of San Francisco, a driver, possi- ble back injury, referred to a private physician; Earl A. Full- er, 24, of 217 California Avenue, South San Francisco, a driver and Arcadio Rodriguez, 29, of San Francisco, the third driver.

San Jose Avenue and Bepler Street, three cars, one of them a hit-and-run auto; Patricia A. Rivers, 16, of 221 Woodrow Street, Daly City, a head cut, a passenger in a car driven by Rosalie M. Rivers, 47, of 221 Woodrow Street; Thelma M. Ray, 36, of San Francisco, driver of the other auto.

East Vista Avenue and Hill- side Boulevard, an auto and motorcycle; Muriel Mills, 17, of 68 Gambetta Street, Daly City, ankle and upper lip injury and a possible fractured knee, trans- ferred to the University of Cali- fornia Medical Center in San Francisco, a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Gregory E. Mills, 19, of 68 Gambetta; Gus- tavo Rodriguez, 62, of 230 Ar- royo Street, South San Fran- cisco, driver of the auto, cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Two Share First Prize In Contest

For the first time in the history of the Westlake Improve- ment Association's annual Christmas Decorations Contest, grand prize-winner honors will be shared by two entrants.

They are August, Conci of 14 Westpark Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alvord, of 444 Hil- gate Drive.

Their homes scored the same number of points on the score sheets of five judges.

The judges were Municipal Court Judge Charles Becker, of Daly City Mayor Michael De- Bernardi, Councilman Albert Polonsky, Ron Bates of The Post, and Hal Dahlgren, last year's grand prize winner.

The two grand prize winners will receive $50 U. S. Savings Bonds.

Reserving $25 savings bonds were winners of various West- lake units. They are:

Unit 1—The children of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vargas, 72 Bel- mont Drive; Unit 2 — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gehr, 12 Wilshire Court; Unit 3 — Mrs. Albert Fambriani, 30 Fairway Drive, and Unit 4—Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Fuhrman, 697 South Mayfair Avenue.

Unit 5—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Cain, 72 Lakemont Drive; Unit 6 — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Casey, 5 Creston Avenue; Unit 7—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bach, 97 Maywood Avenue; Unit 8—Mrs. Pastora Alvarez, 186 Avalon Drive, and Unit 11 — Mr. and Mrs. Al Serini, 1 Longview Drive.

Conci was the Unit 1-A winner and the Alvords the Unit 10 win- ner.

Rotary Recognition

DAVE MILTON, right, president of the Student Body at Westmoor High School, re- ceives a certificate of participation for at- tending several meetings of the Daly City Rotary Club as a guest. Making the presenta- tion is Dr. George Riba, left, president of the club, while Sherrill Pugh, chairman of the club's student guest committee, looks on. Milton plans to study government at San Francisco State College.

Recall Bid Report Due Rains Delay Rites Plans

No report was available early Planning) volunteers were told this week on progress of peti- tions being circulated through- out the Laguna Salada School District to recall the district's board of trustees.

Eugene Cowhig, leader of the recall movement, said that HELP (Help Eliminate Lax to circulate the documents t their own convenience until after the holiday season and that work will not begin in earnest until after the first of the year.

District Supt. Fred Lucas said no news of the circulation had reached his office.

Heavy rains in the area dur- ing the past week have dealt a crippling blow to plans for of- ficial ceremonies that will cele- brate the opening of Pacifica's new Cabrillo Freeway.

City Manager Karl Baldwin said he doubted if any plans can be made until after January 11.

D.C. Driver Sues Police, Asks $25,000

A Daly City auto salesman filed a $25,000 damage suit in Superior Court last week, charg- ing that he was beaten by two Daly City policemen.

The suit, filed by Thomas Garvin, 691 St. Francis Boul- evard, names officers Robert Stables and Charles Phillips.

The complaint alleges that last February 13 the defend- ants "unlawfully made an as- sault upon the plaintiff and did then and there beat, wound and ill treat the plaintiff by striking and kicking him and his body." Garvin asks $25,000 gen- eral damages and $350 for medi- cal costs.

His attorney, Warren Sullivan, said Garvin was arrested for speeding, and when he refused to sign the ticket, was taken to the police station. An argu- ment ensued, the lawyer said, and Garvin was struck in the face with the butt of a gun, and was kicked.

Police Chief Roland Petro- chi denied the charge and point- ed out that records show that Garvin pleaded guilty of re- sisting arrest and was placed on probation for that.

Frits Michon of 276 Los Oli- vos Avenue, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that someone had fired a .38 caliber bullet into the wall of a rear bedroom in his home.
